Loggers Prepare Both T and Single Wing Back Formation for Fri. Game

The Vernonia Loggers began practice this week for their coming tilt with the Parkrose Broncos by trying out the T formation. The coming games will see both the T and the single wingback formations used by the Loggers. The all-important man that will be behind the T formation or who will quarterback and take the ball from center will be Gordon Crowston. Crowston, who is only a freshman, handled the ball very nicely in practice this week. The right half spot will be held by Knightwine; left half by Millis and the fullback position by Brown when using the T. The Parkrose Broncos will also operate from the T Friday evening when they play the locals. They are second in the Lower Columbia league conference and third in district 7 standings. The game should be an even affair since the Broncos tied the Lions seven all while the Loggers beat them only 7-6.
