Unemployment Payments Hit New High in March

Payments to Oregon's unemployed during March reached $4,166,215, heaviest on record, but claims last week dropped to 48,616, nearly 30 per cent under the winter's peak, the state unemployment compensation commission reports.

Workers covered by the state's unemployment law received $2,394,260, slightly less than in the previous month and 17.1 per cent under the all-time high of March 1946. Readjustment allowances to out-of-work veterans increased to $1,771,955, about 14 percent higher than in February and considerably above any other month since payments started under the G.I. bill of rights in September, 1944.

Lumber and logging plants workers again were more than 40 per cent of the unemployed, although the proportion decreased slightly in recent weeks.

JUST AS YOU are reading this classified, so are thousands of others. Moral: Use Eagle ads to get results quickly and cheaply.

WORK BEGINS

WILLAMINA — Preliminary work has started on a new grade school for Willamina, with actual excavation work getting underway last week. Charles J. Johnson of Portland was awarded the contract on his bid of $155,817 for the complete building.

The present grade school building, which was built 40 years ago to accommodate 150 children and six teachers, is entirely inadequate for the present enrollment of 440 students, 340 of whom attend classes in the building, with 50 more taken care of in a two-room quonset hut, and 50 in the basement of the Christian church.

DIALS TO COME

GARIBALDI — Enlargement of the Garibaldi Telephone building to make room for a new and larger dial system, together with plans for a new dial telephone office at Netarts, was announced last week by Emil Broms, manager here for The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Size of the Garibaldi building will be virtually doubled with the completion of a 12'x14' one story addition, started last week, and the new dial equipment will increase the capacity of the office from 170 to roughly 300 telephones, according to Broms.

LAND FERTILIZED

WARRENTON — Fertilizing of farm lands was accomplished Saturday and Sunday a week ago by the Hilmstrom Aerial crop-dusting service of Astoria by Pilot Dennis Thompson. The crop-dusting plane with its hoppers filled with nitrogen and phosphate fertilizer, covered more than 100 acres, including the J. O. Conville farm in Warrenton.

17,000 ACRES SLUICED

McMINNVILLE — Moderate to severe soil losses occurred on some 17,000 acres of sloping Yamhill county agricultural lands this winter, during one of the Willamette valley's worst runoff periods, a soil damage survey completed by the Portland regional office of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service disclosed last week.

The 115,000 ton soil loss inventoried in Yamhill county, represented a good share of the million plus tonnage washed from all upland farms in the Willamette basin highlands.

AERIAL TRAMWAY

SANDY — The aerial tramway between Government Camp and Timberline Lodge on Mt. Hood will be completed in approximately 90 to 120 days after work is resumed this spring, Dr. O. George, president of the tramway corporation has declared.

Dr. George said that work on the tramway, expected to attract tourists from throughout the world, would get underway as soon as weather conditions permit.

With the 4-H Clubs

Field Trip Taken

The Rock Creek Forestry club field trip was held between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. at Clint Seibert's place. Those present were: Mary Ella Tipton, Betty Jo Tipton, Laura Mae, Martyn, Ruby and Leland Seibert.

Crossing the river on saddle horses the group carried all necessary tools for planting the Douglas fir trees. Cedar sticks topped with white paint, were used for marking the 200 trees.

One hundred sixty more Douglas fir and 40 black locusts were planted in the evenings of the following weeks.

Taking turns, short work was made of the tree planting job. While one person was measuring with a five-foot stick and staking, another came behind, digging holes for the one following, who planted the tree. Spreading the roots and crumbling the dirt around them. The next procedure was to step on the dirt and mulch with dead ferns. Turns were taken in measuring, digging and planting.

Mary Ella and Betty Jo Tipton took forty trees to plant at their home.

A 60 per cent livability six months from now is necessary to show how many will produce Christmas trees later.

These trees grow from one to two feet a year. It has been found that slow growing is best for Christmas trees. This type of tree may be planted four feet apart, which gives about 2,742 an acre. The club planted five feet, which gives 1,742 an acre. To qualify for forest conservation practices, only 400 trees an acre must be maintained.

The crew of eight, including Tiny the mascot, age five, planted all the trees in three hours.
