Jobless Pay Ends for Most Vets July 25

An estimated 95 per cent of Oregon's World War II veterans will be ineligible for GI jobless benefits after July 25, stopdate for payments to men discharged from active service prior to the official end of the war on July 25, 1947, the Oregon department of veterans' affairs reports. The remaining five per cent can draw until their two years following discharge time is up.

As the end of this phase of the GI bill neared, figures from the Oregon state unemployment compensation commission disclosed that only 6530 veterans, or less than five per cent of Oregon's World War II veteran population, had exhausted their benefits, which amount to $20 a week for a maximum of 52 weeks for the unemployed ex-GI and $100 for slightly more than ten months of self employed.

Oregon veterans received $31,330,000 in federal jobless pay in the nearly five years of the program. The jobless peak was in early March of this year when 24,329 veterans drew benefits in one week. The lightest load, 1152 veterans, occurred in October, 1948.

Applications for Antelope Open

C. A. Lockwood, Oregon state game supervisor, announces that applications, on a tentative basis for antelope tags should be mailed to the Oregon state game commission office in Portland at once.

The proposed antelope season for this year in Oregon is only tentative as regulations will not be made final until July 23. The early dates of the proposed season, however, makes it necessary for hunters to participate to mail applications at an early date, Mr. Lockwood stated.

The tentative hunting regulations call for a limited antelope hunt with 1,000 tags to be issued. If more than that number of applications are received, a public drawing will be held to determine the successful applicants. Applications for tags may be made on regular forms which are available at all license agencies or by letter. If application is made by letter, the following information must be included: the applicant's name (printed), his address, the type of license and the license number. No money is to be sent with the application.

As was the practice last year for special seasons, applications will be accepted for individuals or for parties or individuals up to and including four persons. If party applications are made, the proper information must be supplied for each member of the party.

All applications for antelope tags must be in the game commission office in Portland by 5 p.m., July 27.

The advantage of many commercial codes is that they condense the message into one-fifth the space.

Many Veterans in Training

Thirteen per cent of all veterans training in schools and on-the-job under the G. I. bill and Public Law 16 are taking institutional on-farm training and other agricultural courses, the veterans administration reports.

A recent study of the principal courses and employment objectives of 2,535,385 World War II veterans in all types of training showed that 340,876 were farm trainees.

Institutional on-farm training, available to eligible veterans, combines organized group instruction in agricultural and related subjects with supervised work experience on the farm.

While in training, veterans may receive monthly subsistence allowances, varying with the number of hours of instruction received. Maximum allowances are from $65 to $67.50 for those with no dependents; from $90 to $93.75 for those with one dependent, and $90 to $97.50 for those with more than one dependent.

Q. I receive compensation for a 30 per cent service connected disability. Am I entitled to an increase because I have dependents?

A. No. The disability must be at least 60 per cent disabling before additional compensation for dependents is payable.
