Popular Summer Park

THESE TWO photos show scenes at Rogers park on Pebble creek, the park site developed by the Columbia Tree Farm where the Rogers homestead was located many years ago. Development of the park was started in 1916 and improvements have been added each year since then. The park enjoys frequent use during summer months by picnickers. The upper view shows the park entrance and below are the picnic facilities available. It was at the Rogers homestead where Nelson Rogers, late state forester, was raised.
