

County 4-Hers Achieve Hard Record to Beat at State Fair

4-H club members from Columbia county made a record at the Oregon State Fair that will be hard to beat in future years, reports Harold Black, county extension agent in charge of 4-H club work.

A total of eight 4-H club members won scholarships to the 1951 4-H club summer school, two club members won registered calves, thirty-two won ribbons for exhibits or in special contests, and the herdsman's cup was won by the livestock members from Columbia county.

Winning first place in the crops identification and judging contest and scholarships to 4-H summer school were Harold Ashley, Mist, and Bruce Larsen and Ronald Parman, both of Birkenfeld. Ashley placed second in individual standings.

The canning judging contest was won by Virginia Cox and Bessie Bates, both of Scappoose. Each will receive a scholarship to 4-H summer school. Summer school scholarships were also won by Harry Brady, Robert Schultz, and Donald Freytag who placed first in the forestry identification contest.

The livestock judging team, composed of Marjorie Hurula, Betty Pesio and Gene Jones, all of Clatskanie, placed third in their contest. Twenty seven teams competed in this contest. Three home economics judging teams won red awards for placing high in their contests. They included: cookery judging: Carol Ann Noll and L. Rae Armstrong, both of Clatskanie; clothing judging: Joan Johnson and Patricia Cox, Scappoose; and homemaking judging: Grace Quinn and Mildred Thomas, Bachelor Flat.

The five club members who exhibited livestock captured the herdsman's trophy by having the neatest and cleanest stalls during the week of the fair. The 4-Hers were William McDonald, Jr., Jerol Moran, Margaret Buckley and Billie Braun, all of Vernonia and Marjorie Hurula of Clatskanie.

MacDonald won the registered Holstein calf awarded by the Ever May dairy of Forest Grove to the outstanding club member exhibiting a Holstein.

Braun also compiled an excellent record to win the milking shorthorn calf awarded by the Hawthorne Glen farm at Oregon City. Calves were awarded in five dairy breeds to club members who had highest scores in record book, exhibit, and interview.

MacDonald exhibited two Jerseys and one Holstein; Moran exhibited a shorthorn steer and heifer and a Jersey heifer; Margaret Buckley showed a Guernsey heifer; Braun a shorthorn heifer; and Marjorie Hurula a Hereford heifer.

Margaret Buckley's animal received first place; Marjorie Hurula's third; and Braun's fourth. Moran's shorthorn heifer won first, his steer was awarded 2nd and Jersey ninth. MacDonald's Holstein received third, while his Jersey cow won fifth and Jersey heifer received sixteenth place. MacDonald's cow gave birth to a bull during the fair. Moran's steer was purchased at the auction sale by Safeway store of St. Helens for 34 cents a pound.

In dairy showmanship MacDonald won third, Braun eighth, and Moran twelfth, and Buckley thirteenth in their respective classes. Moran placed ninth in junior beef showmanship while Marjorie Hurula won ninth in the senior division.

In the home economics division blue awards were won by Clare Johnson, Scappoose, for clothing II; and Georgina Miller, Mary Celine Miller, and Pauline Miller, all of Deer Island, with their sponge cakes in the cookery II division.

Winning red awards were: Billy Bock, Chapman, cookery II; Ella May Kyser, Mist, cookery I; Jean Inart, Deer Island, cookery II; Betty Thomas, Bachelor Flat, camp cookery; Anneata Tracy, Rainier, clothing I-B; Ruby Lee DeLong, Bachelor Flat, knitting II; and Janet Peterson, Scappoose, rose and flower.

Those receiving white awards included Loretta Logan, Canaan, cookies; Janice Dodson, Deer Island, sponge cake; Marilyn Lomnicky, Scappoose, sponge cake and homemaking III; James Hartill, Quincy, sponge cake;

Rules Set Up For Home Loans

Recognizing the fact that some of the veterans who have secured home loans from the State department of Veterans affairs may be recalled to service during the present emergency, and realizing that it may in some instance work a direct hardship on these veterans, there has, according to Fred B. Corn, county service officers, been a set of regulations set up to take care of this situation. These are briefly set forth and any further information can be secured from the county service officer and questionnaires may be obtained from his office.

Also competing at the state fair were Carol Ann Noll and L. Rae Armstrong of Clatskanie in the cooking demonstration contest; Virginia Cox and Bessie Bates of Scappoose in the food preservation demonstrations; Bessie Bates in the canning contest; and Harriet Heath, Vernonia, in the dollar dinner contest. Results of these contests haven't been received yet. Billie Braun and Jerol Moran received a white award for their livestock demonstration.

Others exhibiting at the fair included: Bertie Lu Ashley, Mist; Maxine Oblack, Mist; Joan Carver, Chapman; Sue Johnson, Clatskanie; Betty Lou Kinart, Deer Island; Helene Bennett, Bachelor Flat; Harriet Heath, Vernonia; Nadine Tunnell, Vernonia; Judy Webster, Clatskanie; June Webster, Clatskanie; JoAnn DeLong, Bachelor Flat; Frances Brady, Bachelor Flat; Grace Quinn, Bachelor Flat; David Truett, Hudson; Robert Kyser, Mist; Jack Wilson, Mist; Paul and Barbara Turner, St. Helens; Gary Wright, Scappoose; and Arleigh Laramore, Vernonia.

Those who spent the week at Salem included the livestock exhibitors and Betty Jane Paterson and Harold Black, county extension agents.
