CHIEF KNOW-UM SIGNALS HOUSE-WIVES HOW TO KEEP HUBBY HAPPY

When a man comes home after a hard day's work he likes to sit down to a really good meal. And your meals can be good only when you use good foods. That's why the chief suggests you trade at Mill Market and Lockers — because they carry nothing but good foods. (You and your husband will like the prices too.)

Club Entertained; Plans Rummage Sale

TREHARNE — Mrs. Byron Kirkbride entertained the Treharne birthday club Thursday, November 6 in her home in honor of her birthday. Since there were no birthdays in November and so many birthdays in December Mrs. Kirkbride and Mrs. Smith set their parties up in November. Linnie Reynolds, who is staying with her sister and family, Mrs. Claude Weaver, while Mr. Weaver is in the hospital, and Mrs. G. C. Kirkbride were guests. The club is having a rummage sale at Mrs. Midge Reynolds' Nov. 13. Sale of coffee to drink with sack lunch and proceeds of rummage sale are to replenish club funds to be used for good cheer and aid where needed in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Merle Odum, children, Judy, Jimmy and Darrell, returned home during the week end from their trip back east.

Mrs. Merle Odum, Jimmy and Darrell, called on Mrs. Florence Kirkbride Monday afternoon.

Roof of Natal Hall Repaired

Natal Grangers gathered last Sunday, November 2, for a work day which was devoted to repairing the roof of the hall. Another activity of the Natal Grange was a benefit party that took place October 31 for the Wells family. That party also served as a welcome for the Wells.

The Natal home economics club met Wednesday of last week at the H. H. Anderegg home at which time the hostess box was won by Myrtle Mathews. The next meeting of this group will take place December 3 when Christmas plans will be made.

The last Pomona Grange meeting was attended by Mrs. L. Carmichael, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Dunlap, Clyde Henderson and Richard Peterson who represented the Natal Grange.

Applications for Bonus Still Out

Officials of the state department of veterans' affairs have expressed their concern over the fact that more than 1000 widows, children and parents of deceased Oregon World War II veterans have neglected to apply for the bonus. The deadline is December 1, less than a month away.

H. C. Saalfeld, bonus supervisor for the state veterans' department, which administers the benefit, said an estimated 5,000 veterans who were bona fide residents for one year prior to their World War II service have died in service or since discharge.

However, bonus applications have been received from beneficiaries of only 3,978 of these deceased, and Saalfeld said the department is concerned lest many of the remaining neglect to apply for the benefit before the deadline.

As of October 21 a total of 101,271 bonus payments had been made to living veterans and next of kin in the amount of $40,864,200. The average payment per living veteran was $401.75, and in behalf of deceased veterans, $536.89.
