Six 4-H Scholarships Sponsored By Community and Pomona Granges

On Saturday, May 1, South Scappoose Grange was host to the Columbia County Pomona Grange in the Scappoose Grade School building, with a large attendance from all parts of the county. Guests from Washington County were Pomona Master Clay Dorland and family.

Agriculture report by County Agent Don Walrod stressed the need for dusting and spraying to combat insect pests prevalent at this season. Care was urged in use of these insecticides, with various kinds being listed.

Memorial services were held immediately after the noon meal for eighteen Pomona members who have died during the past year, these being from most of the county Granges.

Reports from Subordinate Granges showed that five have sponsored 4-H scholarships this year, with a sixth being given by Pomona. It was decided this year to choose the Pomona winner from a Grange family of the county, and Mrs. Pearl Becker was asked to help choose the winner.

A sale of flowers, candy and cooked food was held, which netted enough to pay for the Pomona scholarship. In addition, two knitted lace doilies were auctioned off to provide money for the work of the Chaplain, Mrs. Mackey, of Marshland.

Since the County Fair has been set for the first week of August which is the usual date of Pomona Grange meeting, it was voted to have Pomona on the fifth Saturday of July, or July 31. Other dates set were Grange Council for last Sunday of June, and the annual Pomona picnic on July 25. It was voted to ask all Granges to donate prizes for the sports events of the picnic as usual, and talent numbers for the program.

Several entries were made in the State Grange linen guest towel contest. Mrs. Allyn, Home Demonstration Agent, judged the entries with the following results: Pearl Beck of Warren Grange, 1st; Anna Mauris of Fern Hill, 2nd; and Mrs. McMahon of Marshland, 3rd. The first prize winner will compete at the State Grange session in June.

Lecturer's program in the evening was made up of music, readings, etc. Miss Genevieve Rabin-sky showed colored slides of her trip to Mexico last year, these pictures being enjoyed by all.

Next Pomona meeting will be at Marshland.
