

MR. AND MRS. DAVID TEMPLE

Nancy Siedelman Married In Vancouver Ceremony January 21

At a ceremony performed January 21 at Vancouver, Washington, Miss Nancy Jean Siedelman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Siedelman of Vernonia, became the bride of David L. Temple, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Temple, of Portland. Going to Vancouver with them for the ceremony were the groom's father; his grandmother, Mrs. Clara Temple of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Goodman of Vernonia. For the ceremony, the bride wore a gray suit with navy accessories and a red carnation corsage.

In the evening, a reception for the couple was held at the home of the groom's parents. "Let Me Call You Sweetheart", was sung by all the guests and Fred Thompson sang two solos, "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Mae Bell Thompson.

The wedding cake was served to the guests by Miss Marlene Lawler and Mrs. Mae Bell Thompson. Mrs. Janet Fields, sister of the bride, presided at the punch bowl and also had charge of the guest book. Coffee was poured by Mrs. Pat Goodman.

The couple will make their home in Portland, and after a change in the weather, will take a delayed honeymoon trip to Victoria, British Columbia.

ROBERT Y. THORNTON

Thornton Asks May Nomination

Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton announced recently that he will seek reelection as state attorney general in 1956 and will actively campaign for the Democratic nomination in the May 18 primary election.

Thornton, a former Tillamook county legislator, said that he expected to make a forthright campaign to keep the office of attorney general strong, independent and elected by the people rather than appointed by the Governor.

"As head of the state department of justice, the attorney general is not merely the Governor's lawyer; he is the people's lawyer as well. An attorney general elected by the people brings to the state government independent and impartial legal advice. While under the law his powers are limited, nevertheless he can, by the judicious use of his office, do much to foster law enforcement and secure to the people the full advantages of laws enacted for their benefit and the full safeguards of other laws enacted for their protection," Thornton declared.

Thornton was an army intelligence officer in World War II and in private life takes regular military training with the Salem unit of the U.S. army reserve. He is also a member of the board of directors of Salem's YMCA, and assumes an active role in the YMCA's Americanization school for prospective new citizens residing in Marion, Yamhill, Linn and Polk counties. He is married and has one son.
