Grand Officers At IOOF Lodge

At the meeting of Vernonia Odd Fellows lodge which was held December 10, both first and second degrees were conferred by the Vernonia officers on candidates brought here from Astoria and Warrenton. Don Wayne Harvey of Astoria and Darrell Bergerson of Warrenton received both degrees and Roy Wheatley and Wayne Sampson of Warrenton who had received the first degree here previously were also included in the second degree. Visitors that evening included four from Forest Grove, one from Hillsboro, nine from Astoria and one from Rainier. Tuesday of this week, the local lodge was host to Roy V. Terney of Pendleton, grand master, who was making his official visit. Other honored guests were John S. Van Doren of Forest Grove, grand patriarch, and Stanley Oldham, Lake Grove, grand marshal. All three gave very interesting talks.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by a committee of Rebekahs, Virginia Hogeberg, Hazel Cook, Catherine Lentz, Cora Lange, Lucille Hickman and Maxine Akers.

The Columbia Encampment has announced installation of officers for January 3. Previous to that, there will be a special meeting of the Odd Fellows lodge that evening for examination of officers. The lodge installation will be January 7.

Mrs. Earl Avis, Columbia City Ardent Extension Program Worker

An ardent worker in the county home extension program is Mrs. Earl Avis, Columbia City.

Not long ago the family moved into their new home on the bank of the Columbia river where they have an excellent view of the river and its traffic. Mr. and Mrs. Avis did much of the work themselves during the evenings and spare hours.

Mrs. Avis was born on her grandfather's farm near Arvada, Colorado. She is the second of 7 children and thus had her share of responsibility early in life.

She attended both grade and high school at Arvada. After graduating from high school she attended the Colorado state college of education for one year and several summers and taught for about 10 years in Colorado.

It was through grange activities that she met Mr. Avis.

Mr. and Mrs. Avis have three children, Eileen, Marilyn and Stanley. Eileen graduated from St. Helens high school, is married and is now living at Scappoose. Marilyn is a sophomore in high school while Stanley is attending the Columbia grade school. Both Eileen and Marilyn have been active in 4-H club work.

Before leaving Colorado the Avis' sold their 20-acre farm and took a trip before deciding on a new location. This trip took them to Yellowstone National Park, through Montana, Idaho and Washington and then to Portland where they stopped to visit a relative. It was while in Portland that they decided to live here because the greenness of Oregon appealed to them. After living in Portland for three and one-half years the family moved to Columbia City so that Mr. Avis could be nearer to his electrical work.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Avis have been active members in grange and have held various offices in the subordinate grange as well as Pomona. Mrs. Avis has also been active in the grange home economics club and served on the farmers institute committee.

Since coming to Oregon, Mrs. Avis has been active in PTA both in Portland and in Columbia City and has been its secretary, treasurer and president besides on the executive committee each year. She also is a member of the Columbia Community club and the Pinochle club.

For the past nine years she has been a 4-H leader and a member of the Columbia county 4-H leaders association.

For six years she has been active in the home extension program. As a member of the Columbia home extension unit, she has been the unit 4-H chairman, vice chairman for two years, besides chairman for two years and taking her turn as project leader each year.

"I think," says Mrs. Avis, "the extension program is a well rounded program that helps homemakers of all ages. I have learned many practical things through the extension program and especially in sewing, which has helped me in so many ways in my own home."
