KOG Aims Told County Group

The Columbia County Keep Oregon Green committee held its annual meeting in St. Helens on Thursday evening of last week. Mr. Albert Weisendanger, executive secretary of Keep Oregon Green, spoke to the group, giving an outline of the aims and accomplishments of the forest fire prevention program in Oregon since inception of the Keep Oregon Green movement in 1941.

Bob Madsen, District Warden from the Forest Grove headquarters of the Northwest Oregon District pointed out recent fire statistics for the area and for Columbia county.

The Keep Oregon Green committee is organized to further the efforts of fire fighting agencies by keeping the people of the area constantly alert to prevent fires. The program of public education is carried by posters, news stories, radio and TV releases and personal contacts to all classes of people using the forests. This includes tourists, vacationers, hunters, fishermen, farmers and ranchers, loggers, and land-owners.

On display at the dinner meeting were all of the many posters, pamphlets, and other materials being used in the Keep Oregon Green campaign this year. Each member committee present at the meeting took home with him a supply of these materials for use in his own local community. Anyone interested in helping this program locally or in securing Keep Oregon Green publicity material should contact their local representative.

The 1963 Columbia County committee, as announced by Bob Lindsay, Vernonia chairman, includes the following people:

Scappoose area: Phil Holsheimer Jr. and Tharrel Marcott. Rainier area: H. C. Owens and

Carl Zimmerman. Vernonia area: Wilford Holce

and E. T. Johnston (Birkenfeld). St. Helens area: Howard House (Warren), Jack McGuire and Paul Vance.

Clatskanie area: Ralph Kleger and Willard Evenson.

Many a man who lives it up finds he must also live it down.
