

BARBARA WASHBURN

Plans Made For Autumn Rites

Doctor and Mrs. R. D. Eby of Beaverton recently enjoyed vacationing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Washburn whose home overlooks the Strait of Juan de Fuca, where many hours were spent fishing and boating.

The occasion for this trip was the announced engagement of Barbara Washburn and Marvin Eby.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur W. Washburn III of Neah Bay, Washington. Schools attended were Helen Bush school in Seattle and the University of Washington where she is an Alpha Phi and majored in French education.

Marvin is the son of Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Eby of Beaverton. After finishing grade school and high school in Vernonia he attended the University of Oregon and was graduated from Oregon State University. He majored in business and is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Marvin works for Crown Zellerbach and at present is in their Clallum, Washington office.

Wedding plans are being made for November 17.

Wool Contest Data Received

The county extension office has received information on the 16th annual Make It Yourself With Wool home sewing contest conducted by the womens auxiliary to the National Wool Growers association, The Oregon Wool Growers auxiliary and The American Wool Council.

Contestants may be 13 through 21 years of age. There will not be an adult contest in Oregon this year. At the district contest those entered will be required to model a 100 per cent wool garment. The work must be entirely the work of the contestant.

Columbia county is in District 3. The contest for this district will be October 20 at the Seaside hotel, Seaside. District director is Mrs. H. M. Wait, Box 55, Rickreall.

Anyone wishing additional information may write to their district director or may contact the county extension office in St. Helens.

Past Presidents Club Meets At Portland Home

Members of the Past Presidents club of the Legion auxiliary went to Portland to meet at the home of Mrs. Henry Ade August 2. Included were Mrs. Lona Weidman, Mrs. Harry Culbertson, Mrs. Louis Towne, Mrs. Jennie Lusby, Mrs. Freda Biggs, Mrs. Albert Schalock, Mrs. Fred Heckenliab and Mrs. Nora Mitchell. They reported that Mr. Ade is much improved from his heart attack and able to be out but not to return to work. The club will meet next with Mrs. Harry Culbertson on the first Tuesday in September.

Two From VHS At Workshop

A group of high school leaders from throughout Oregon spent last week at the University of Oregon studying the role of the student council and techniques of group leadership.

The 174 students participating in the 12th student council workshop included student body officers, class presidents and editors of yearbooks and papers from more than 150 Oregon schools. Two students from Hawaii were enrolled, also.

During the five days of the workshop the students discussed a different topic daily and planned and executed various recreational activities similar to those they will be responsible for during the school year.

Some of the topics discussed at last week's session were "Leadership Training and Parliamentary Procedure" and "Student Council Problems and Projects." Activities planned by the group included an informal mixer, picnic, banquet and dance and talent show.

Vernonia high school was represented by Gary Johnston, student body president and David Brunson, student body treasurer. They were accompanied to Eugene by Harold McEntire and returned home Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Dave Brunson.

November 10 Goodwill Day

The 1962 Good Turn for Goodwill has been set for November 10, according to a joint announcement today by Boy Scout Executive Guy Miller, Portland Area Council, and Marvin Davidson, President, Rotary Club of East Portland.

The Rotary Club sponsors the annual event; while the Boy Scouts collect the contributed materials which are used by Goodwill Industries in its rehabilitation program. East Side Rotarians have sponsored clothing collections for Goodwill as their major community project for the past ten years.

If the pattern of former years is followed, about 1,000 Boy Scouts units in the Portland Council area will participate. These units comprise 22,000 Boy Scouts and their younger Cub brothers who will work on two consecutive Saturdays to help Goodwill help the handicapped. Empty Good Turn bags will be delivered to more than 200,000 homes on November 3rd. The Scouts return a week later to collect the filled bags.

Approximately 100 members of the Rotary Club of East Portland will work alongside the Scouts to aid Goodwill. The Portland Fire Department also participates by permitting the use of fire stations as collection points for the clothing gathered.

Since 1954 Goodwill Industries has increased nearly threefold the number of handicapped men and women served through its program of jobs, evaluation and on-the-job training. The annual Good Turn clothing drive is a prime factor in achieving this success in serving handicapped people, according to a Goodwill spokesman.

IOOF Lodges Honor Galloway

Lester Galloway, grand conductor for the Grand Lodge of Oregon, IOOF, was honored Sunday at a reception at the Vernonia IOOF hall. Hosts for the affair were the Vernonia Odd Fellows lodge in which he holds membership and the Clatskanie Odd Fellows lodge which he attends due to his residence in Clatskanie and in which he holds an associate membership. Members of the Mt. Heart Rebekah lodge provided refreshments for the event.

John Van Doran of Forest Grove past grand patriarch, acted as master of ceremonies. Other past grand officers present were Edna Bradley of Clatskanie, past president of the Rebekah Assembly and Warren Young, past grand master.

Mrs. Galloway and their children and other relatives were among those assembled to pay tribute to him.

A number of nice congratulatory gifts were presented to Mr. Galloway.

New Highway Map Prepared

The Oregon state highway commission is now distributing its first completely new highway map in nearly 40 years. The new version will replace a map that has been in use, with yearly alterations, since 1924.

A sample of the new map was reviewed and approved in April of 1961, and actual work started four months later. All work was done by highway department personnel, with the exception of the color separation which was done by a commercial shop.

In all, 11 separate color drawings were necessary to show the various details including topography, parks, airports, fish hatcheries, cities and counties.

The first maps came off the press this month, exactly one year from the start of the project. This first edition will fill the balance of the 1962 order of about 250,000 maps. The map will again be brought up to date prior to the start of printing on next year's edition.

The Oregon state highway commission distributes the map with local chambers of commerce, the Oregon state motor association (AAA), the state police, state parks, and state highway department buildings throughout the state. Copies may also be obtained by writing the state department in Salem.

Shearing of Lambs Urged

Ewe lambs being carried over for replacement should be sheared as soon as possible, but preferably not later than September first, suggests Don Coin Walrod, county extension agent.

By observing the early September date, the animals have an opportunity to make a regrowth of wool before cold or wet weather.

Research throughout the nation has shown that sheep which have been sheared make faster and more efficient growth. In addition, wool sheared will more than pay for the cost of shearing.

Fourth Daughter Joins The Marilyn Eide Family

Mr. and Mrs. Marilyn Eide are the parents of a girl born August 11 at the Tuality Community hospital at Hillsboro. She is named Jeanine Michelle and joins three sisters, Jacki, Judi and Janet. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Falconer of Treharne.

Series Offered On Landscaping

A new series of landscape design study courses will be launched in Portland beginning Oct. 25 and 26 under sponsorship of Oregon State University and the Oregon Federation of Garden clubs.

The course will be at the Lloyd Center auditorium. Its purpose is to help garden club members, professional landscapers, and interested citizens get the background and understanding they need to plan parks, their own gardens and city developments, according to Donald Martel, course coordinator and head of Landscape Architecture at OSU.

The October short course will include an early history of landscape design, plant composition and use, design in the residential areas, art and appreciation and urban planning.

Lecturers will be Martel, Walter Doty, formerly of Sunset magazine; Marion D. Ross, University of Oregon architect; Richard M. Bowe, U.S. Forest Service; Mark Sponenburgh, W. W. Chilcote, and Richard Blakely, OSU.

Pre-registration and detailed information about the course is available from Ray McNeilan at the Multnomah county extension office, 611 East Powell, Gresham, or Elizabeth Murray, 2840 N.E. 40th, Portland 13. Fee for the course is $5.

Fair Welcomes Children Again

Children will be welcomed again in the enlarged free children's playground in the same location as last year, west of the Stadium, under the direction of Mr. Robert Baum, Salem, at the Oregon State Fair Aug. 31-Sept. 8.

Three sets of play equipment including swings, sliding boards, teeter-totters, and horse swings (the popular new one) have been added.

The playground has been a very popular section of Kiddieland which is managed by West Coast Shows. While kiddies play, mothers can rest on the benches in the shade along side the play grounds.

West Coast Shows is also adding to its huge Storyland Cutouts which youngsters and adults alike enjoyed a year ago. New this year will be a three-dimension six-foot bunny two 2-foot bunnies; one 4-foot elephant; one, 6-foot duck; one 7-foot dinosaur; one 4-foot lion with a cute face, and one 7-foot giraffe.

Shower Follows Hawaiian Idea

Miss Peggy Bowerman was feted at a Hawaiian-set bridal shower, amid tonga lamps, Hawaiian music, and orchids, Saturday afternoon at the Thurman DeHart residence.

Sunny DeHart and Mrs. Art Lamping, dressed in MuMuus, acted as co-hostesses and presented each guest with a lei as they entered. Refreshments of ambrosia fruit salad and sherbert-topped Hawaiian punch were served and Miss Bowerman was presented her gifts to the strains of the Hawaiian wedding song.

Guests were former classmates and included Mrs. Ted Bodenhamer, Miss Judy Towne and Mrs. Ron Brentin from Tacoma, Wash.
