LETTER TO THE EDITOR . . .

UNGUARDED INNOCENT

I know he's there, my guardian angel! There was a display of grief by an angel that night Sept. 6, 1962 as he watched a human exercise his right as a free moral agent. God gave to each human the right to choose and even if His heart did ache with love for humans when they made their choices. He has never yet taken away that right.

Sept. 6, 1962, a little life came to an end! The life of the most innocent, darlinest, little spotted, baby creature, Larry's fawn. He suffered an hour, maybe a few minutes more, but oh those minutes!

Picture the innocent, trusting little nose as it was thrust through the fence to receive the tidbit from a beloved human, who surely couldn't harm him when even cars and dogs didn't come near when he was trotting along, mewing his pleasure at being allowed to trot down the streets behind his trusted friend. Surely he was loved by all humans who took so many pictures. Surely he was cared for by God who watches even the sparrows fall!

Now picture that unhappy lurker, not fenced in, and not dependent on human beings for his very life; but whose jealous, mean disposition could not let him look at Bambi without having the happiness he gave Larry, his family, and all the children in town. Who couldn't stand to have others receive joy from giving loving care to the little, abandoned creature too tiny and weak to stand or take the bottle. Who was left in the middle of my living room floor those first few days, where we all worked to keep up the spark of life. Picture the heart tearing pity in the eyes of the guardian angel for both performers in that yard that night.

Bambi's little body is gone but his sweet ways are pictured in our memories. A guardian angel has a memory picture, too, for he watch a human make that awful choice and God saw the fall of him! I'm glad I didn't.

Mrs. George Johnson

Good jobs often dodge the fellow who has a lame reputation.

Many people have asked me: "Why are you running as an independent candidate for County Commissioner?"

You are entitled to an answer!

After the primaries I was approached by a host of Democrats and Republicans stating they were dissatisfied with the nominees of their respective parties who urged me to run.

Their trust and faith in me prompted my making a personal survey of the County and I was surprised to find a great number of voters wanting a change.

I am proud of my county and state and my sole interest in this race is to contribute my talents and efforts in improving county government and our county road system.

I have no axe to grind—but promise an honest effort to distribute our tax dollars where needed efficiently and in a courteous manner.
