IT'S YOUR LAW

Respect for Law Makes Democracy Live

CONTINUING RESPONSIBILITIES

As a rule, when you sell or lease your place, the new owner or lessee takes over responsibility for it. But you may have some continuing responsibilities. In a recent case three small boys, playing in an old rifle range near home, found a grenade, took it home, and later exploded it, injuring themselves.

The U. S. government had leased the land to train armed forces, but later turned it back to the owner. The boys sued the government. It answered that it no longer controlled the land and should not be blamed for what happened after it gave up possession.

Still the court made the government pay the boys for the harm done.

As a rule, when a seller or lessor gives up his land, he is no longer to blame for defects in the land, buildings, or permanent fixtures.

But defects in things permanently part of the land differ from leaving dangerous things like a grenade about. It isn't a permanent part of the land. The federal government was at fault in not searching for dangerous grenades left by its employees. Besides, this single grenade still was government owned, and, therefore a U. S. responsibility.

Property owners or occupiers have special duties to small children. They may trespass on your land and get hurt by things that are especially attractive to them. Improperly locked explosives, an easy-to-climb power station, an unlocked turntable, or sometimes a pool of water left by a construction firm, are all "attractive nuisances." An owner of such things must take great care to keep trespassing children from getting hurt.

The law imposes one further duty on sellers or lessors of property: No seller can conceal highly dangerous defects that he knows of. If he does, and they hurt the buyer or tenant later, the seller may have to pay damages. Sometimes a landlord controls some of the leased property, such as halls, driveways, elevators, wall beds, or other appliances. The landlord must use care with such things.

Note: Oregon lawyers offer this column as a public service. No person should apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney, who is completely advised of the facts involved. Even a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.

WHY ROY WILBURN

FOR SHERIFF

IN HIS 14 YEARS WITH THE STATE POLICE HE NEVER:

1. Abused a living soul.
2. Played any favorites.
3. Evaded a responsibility.
4. Run out on a hard task.

DURING ALL THOSE YEARS HE WAS ALWAYS:

1. Firm but courteous.
2. Helpful to those in distress.
3. Prompt to investigate each complaint.
4. 100% cooperative with other police officers.

COLUMBIA COUNTY NEEDS THIS KIND OF SHERIFF!

We wish to remind all members that the Cooperative's annual meeting will be held as scheduled this Saturday, October 20 at 10:00 a.m. All members, their families and guests are invited to the meeting which will be held in the Cooperative headquarters building. This is one of the most important of all the annual meetings. Your presence is needed at the meeting.

We thank all members for their help and understanding during the outage resulting from the storm last Friday night.

We also wish to thank all the regular employees and the extra men who have worked long hours to restore service to all the members.

We also want those whose service has not yet been restored to know that all in the power of the cooperative is being done to reach them as rapidly as possible. We particularly wish to thank them for their patience and understanding.
