IMPORTANT MESSAGE TO ALL OREGON TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS

Since the storm of October 12, more than 400 people have been working to repair damage and restore West Coast Telephone service in our Oregon serving areas.

We wish to thank each of these people — the West Coast operators, repair and service crews, the private contractors, and the people from our Company who, not regularly assigned to outside maintenance and repair work, volunteered to help in this emergency.

We also wish to thank each of you — our customers — whose patience and understanding of the magnitude of this problem has helped greatly in our job. We assure you we will continue working until all service is completely restored. Here are the answers to the questions we've been asked most often:

WHEN WILL MY TELEPHONE SERVICE BE RESTORED?

To those of you who may still be without service, we can only say "just as soon as possible." Every available man is working in shifts as long as human endurance and safety will permit.

IF MY SERVICE HAS NOT YET BEEN RESTORED, SHOULD I REPORT IT?

By all means, do. We want to make absolutely sure that no individual service in our system is overlooked and that each telephone is working and working properly.

WILL I BE CHARGED FOR THE TIME MY PHONE WAS OUT OF SERVICE?

No. While we have no control over storm damage, we cannot expect you to pay for the time your phone was not in operation. Credit for that time will be given on a pro-rated basis on your next telephone bill.

NOTE:

Installation of new telephones and additional services has necessarily been suspended during this emergency. Our first responsibility, obviously, is to restore all existing service. If you are waiting for new equipment, we ask that you bear with us until service has been restored in all storm-damaged areas.

WEST COAST TELEPHONE CO.
