6 THURSDAY, NOV. 29, 1962

By Frank J. Laheney

QUESTION: I intend to go on working just as long as I possibly can. How will my earnings affect my social security benefits after I reach 72 next year?

ANSWER: You can get a social security check for every month beginning with the month of your 72nd birthday, no matter how much you work or earn. However, your earnings in the entire year in which you become 72 are counted in figuring what benefits can be paid to you for months of that year while you were still 71.

QUESTION: I am disabled and have never worked under social security. My wife, who has supported me for over 10 years, will be eligible to receive social security next year when she is 62 years of age. I will then be 64. Can I receive benefits as her dependent under the law which permits payments to men under age 65?

ANSWER: Since you are dependent upon your wife, you may be eligible to receive benefits when your wife's application becomes effective. The benefit will be reduced, based on the number of months you are under 65 years of age.

QUESTION: Now that men can get social security at age 62, I decided I would file for it. The lady down there wrote me, asking for my birth certificate. I know I was born on May 4, 1900, but I am not sure what town. Neither of the counties I could have been born in can find any record. They didn't keep good records back in those days. I don't know what to do. What can you do, if you don't have your birth certificate?

ANSWER: A lot of people your age don't have birth certificates. The lady asked you for a "proof of age", not specifically a birth certificate. A birth certificate is preferable, but there are other acceptable proofs. A baptismal certificate is usually just as acceptable as a birth certificate. If you don't have these, practically any other document which recorded your age many years ago (including a Family Bible), may be accepted. Take your problem back to the lady at the Social Security Office, and she will help you find an acceptable proof.

Former Teacher Visits During Holiday Weekend

MIST—Donald Bennett spent the week end visiting several friends here. The Waddells, Clair Devines, Walter Mathews and the Ray Garlocks all enjoyed his visit. Mrs. Goodman and children spent Thanksgiving with her folks in Longview.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cox enjoyed a trip to Oakland, California where they spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Cox's son and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mathews and Bob and Mrs. Maude Rogers were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jones.

Coin Club to Meet

The Nehalem Valley Coin club will meet Thursday evening, November 29, at the West Oregon Electric company building in Vernonia and extends an invitation to persons interested in coin collecting to meet with them. The last Thursday of each month is the regular meeting date for the club and meetings start at 7:30 p.m.
