why the U. S. Supreme Court may hold a state or national law void. Marshall swore in Thomas Jefferson as President. Once in office, Jefferson would not let his new Secretary of State

James Madison give Marbury his commission. Marbury took his case to the Supreme Court, and Marshall's court held that Marbury should have his job. But Marshall went on: the law passed by Congress, which let this suit start in the Constitution. The Constitution says only cases which affect ambassadors and the states can be started in the Supreme Court. As a rule, all other cases must come up from lower courts.

QUESTION: I am a self-employed farmer who has always tried to keep my records accurate to the penny. Now people tell me I can round everything to the nearest dollar. How would that

ANSWER: If you wish, you may show the money items on your return and accompanying schedules as whole-dollar amounts. To accomplish this, you eliminate any amounts of less than 50 cents and increase amounts of 50 cents or more to the next highest dollar. QUESTION: I am 63, my job has become more difficult for me during the last few years because I don't see as well as I once did. Can I retire before I am 65?

ANSWER: Men, as well as women, can now retire as early as age 62; however, the amount of the benefit is reduced depending upon the number of months before age 65 for which benefits are paid. At age 62, for example, you would be eligible for 80 per cent of the amount payable to you at 65. If you waited until you were 63, you would get 86% per cent of the benefit payable at 65. Visit your nearest social security office. You may wish to apply for your benefits now.

QUESTION: I have heard that there are two trust funds; one for disability insurance benefits, and one for old-age and survivors insurance benefits. If this is true, where does the money come from to maintain these two funds?

ANSWER: The largest percentage of the social security tax contributions of employees, their employers, and the self-employed, goes into the old-age and survivors insurance trust fund, but a fixed percentage of one-quarter of one per cent each on employees and employers, and % of one per cent on self-employed persons, is credited to the disability insurance trust fund. Interest earned by the money in both funds is added to the funds.

Wait for the traffic lights to change-it takes less time than to get patched up in a hospital.
