

THE NATAL Grange booth entry won a fifth place ribbon with a mountain theme. The background featured a painted mountain range flanked by trees, while elve figurines were depicted mining, fishing, picking berries, gardening, etc. The booth also carried displays of general farm produce.

THE SOUTH Scappoose Grange booth entry which won a second place award at the county fair last week had a theme of "Cannon Fodder". The booth featured a miniature cannon in the center of the display with a large American flag in the left background and smaller flags on the right. A small logging truck with a huge log, canned displays of meats, fruits and vegetables stairstepping up the sides of the booth and general farm produce and flowers completed the display.

A SPECIAL award went to the Warren Grange entry "Great Expectations" which featured a background of four golden sheafs of grain, the American flag and the Bible in the center of the display. General farm produce and flowers were also tastefully arranged.
