

TOPICS OF THE TOWN

Miss Lynne Culbertson of Medford has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Folken and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Culbertson. On her return home she will be entering Southern Oregon College at Ashland as a freshman.

Week end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Aldrich were Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Jones and five children, all from Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Minger and children Kathy and Steve enjoyed a weeks vacation recently on which they went to San Francisco and visited Mr. Minger's cousin and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Cairns. Mrs. Cairns is the former Lottie Reich. The Mingers also did sight-seeing at Lake Tahoe, Reno, Crater Lake and Oregon Caves.

Lester Sheeley received word last week that his son-in-law, Raymond Schorr of Lynwood, California had passed away suddenly following a heart attack and that his daughter, Mrs. Schorr, had suffered a stroke. The Schorr and their daughters, Suzanne and Julie, visited here with Mr. Sheeley last summer.

Miss Mildred Weed left Saturday to return to her home in Pasadena, California after a vacation spent here with her father, Oscar Weed and brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Weed. The middle of August, Oscar Weed flew to Pasadena and made the trip back with his daughter, following the coast route. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Chester Weed at Myrtle Point and during her stay here they visited Mr. and Mrs. Elza Weed at St. Helens and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Weed at Seattle. Last Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Garner and grandchildren, Susan and Brad Garner, were dinner guests at the Oren Weed home for a visit with Miss Weed before her departure.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Groff and small daughter spent the Labor Day week end on a trip through Oregon, Washington and Idaho, highlight of which was the visit at Clarkston, Washington with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tilley. They especially enjoyed the trip into northern Idaho where they saw many elk. In all they traveled over 900 miles during the week end. The Tilley are in good health and sent their regards to friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Steers drove to Long Beach and Ocean Park, Washington Sunday, then returned to Cannon Beach for overnight after which they went to Salem to attend the state fair on Monday. They found that the hairpin lace afghan made by Mrs. Laura Carmichael which had taken a blue ribbon at the county fair in the National Wool Needlework contest had also taken a blue ribbon at the state fair. It will now go to New York for national judging. Her crocheted stole took a white ribbon at Salem.

Miss Ivy Peterson recently attended a reunion of former Oregon State College students for the classes from 1891 to 1914 which was held at Rose Villa at Milwaukie. The affair was a luncheon and was attended by about 60. There were seven members of Miss Peterson's class present.

Guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Gentry is his mother, Mrs. Mattie Gentry of Exeter, Nebraska who arrived last Thursday for an extended visit. Her son and wife and small daughters met her in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Thomas were in Forest Grove last Saturday to attend funeral services at the Fuiten-Friesen mortuary for Mrs. Harrie C. Fuiten, mother of Jim Fuiten.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wendel spent the week end at Salem attending the Oregon State fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stockwell and family have moved from the Clifford Fowler house on First avenue to the EUB parsonage on State avenue. Mrs. Stockwell is the first grade teacher at Lincoln school.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bender have moved from the Salomonsen house on First avenue to Forest Grove where he will attend Pacific University this year.

Kate Coates is at Good Samaritan hospital making good recovery from surgery performed last Friday morning to remove a cataract from her right eye. She hopes to be released from the hospital later this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Garner and three children attended the Oregon state fair Sunday.

A visitor in Vernonia Wednesday was Edwin Thompson of Portland who formerly lived here and attended school here when a boy. His father, Harry O. Thompson, was gang sawyer at the OA mill in its early days. He passed away here in 1938 and is buried in the Pioneer cemetery which his son visited while here.

Mrs. Clarence Nance made a trip to Tacoma last week end and brought home with her mother, Mrs. May Lehmann who will be here for awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Anderson and daughter who have been residents of Vernonia since June 2 while he served as interim pastor at the Vernonia Bible church, left here Labor Day on the 2150 mile trip to Dallas, Texas where he will be studying for the third year toward his master of theology degree at the Dallas Theological Seminary.

As the result of a car accident on Canyon road last Thursday morning, Mrs. Ruby Elliott is in the Bess Kaiser hospital in Portland with a fractured pelvis and other injuries. Mrs. Grace Powers is in Good Samaritan hospital with bruises and general injuries and her son, Alfred Powers is being treated at St. Vincents hospital. A car is reported to have crossed a divider into their path to cause the accident which occurred while they were enroute to the funeral of a grandson of Mrs. Powers.

hospital in Portland recuperating from accident injuries didn't loose out on competing in the Longview beard-grawing contest because of it. Photographers took pictures of him, then Channel 8 TV moved in last week to put him on the program so judges could see his entry. He was awarded third prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Mosby from Dexter made a visit at the David Zamariappa home Sunday.

Relatives of Mrs. M. A. McNutt who spent the Labor Day week end at her home were her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Fluke and their two children from Springfield; her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Gardner from Longview with their daughter and her newborn baby.

Mrs. Jessie Monaco and family moved last week from the Hartman house on Third street to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Reynolds returned home the middle of August from a trip to Europe on which they left early in the summer. They visited 10 European countries and also spent some time in New York, Washington, D.C. and Virginia where her brother Clifton resides. They visited many historic places such as Mt. Vernon, Richmond, Yorktown, Jamestown and Williamsburg in Virginia. Mrs. Reynolds is the Vernonia kindergarten teacher.

Moving day activities have occupied H. H. Sturdevant and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hartzell the past week. They decided to trade houses so that the Hartzell family could be more conveniently located to the many school activities in which the children take part. They are taking over the Sturdevant house at the corner of Bridge and Washington streets across from the Pine Cone and Mr. Sturdevant is retiring to the quiet of the ranch on Stoney Point road.

Sunday afternoon, Frank Lange and Ted Kauppi were in Forest

Whipple Urges Use for Base

Tongue Point naval base should be utilized as a residential training center for the recently passed Job Corps program, Blaine Whipple told a luncheon gathering at Astoria Tuesday, September 8.

The Beaverton businessman and Democratic nominee for first district Congress, disclosed he had written Sargeant Shriver and strongly urged that "this most qualified facility be used for one of the residential training centers authorized by the recently passed War on Poverty program." Shriver has been appointed by President Johnson to head the program.

Whipple said it has become apparent over the years that Republican Congressman Walter Norblad has no real interest in finding an effective use for the idle naval facility.

"It's plain," Whipple said, "that Norblad is willing to put up with a plucked-goose look in Astoria."

"But why should Clatsop county be the plucked goose of Oregon?" Whipple continued. "If Norblad had made it his priority business to know what was going on in the area and then did some cackling, Tongue Point would not be an idle base today and Clatsop county would be enjoying the same economic growth as other sections of Oregon."

"Squawkless Norblad cannot be counted on to look after Clatsop county's interest," Whipple said. "It is time he be retired to the quiet of his Stayton home."

Whipple said the residential center he proposes could have from 500 to 5000 young people from age 16 to 21, most of them high school dropouts. They would receive education, vocational training and be given useful work experience, including resource conservation tasks on the public lands and national forests.

Whipple's letter to Shriver said a Job Corps residential center could utilize the full and complete structures and grounds of Tongue Point.

Farm Gas Tax Date Mentioned

Claims for refunds of federal gasoline tax on gasoline used for farming purposes must be filed before the end of September, reminds Don Coin Walrod, county extension agent.

All farmers are eligible for a refund of the federal tax on any gasoline purchased for farm production purposes between July 1, 1963 and June 30, 1964. However, the refund claim forms must be completed and filed with the internal revenue service office before September 30.

Most farmers should have received IRS form 2240 by mail, indicates Walrod, especially if a refund was claimed last year. If forms were not received, or if they have been lost, copies can be obtained from the county extension office.

While this tax refund is available to farmers, they must apply for it, says Walrod. The refund is the four cents federal tax on each gallon of gasoline. The average refund will amount to about $40.

Cover Crops Aid to Land

Fall planted cover crops are the most effective method of protecting crop land, berry land, and orchard land from the ravages of winter.

In addition to reducing erosion, County Extension Agent Don Coin Walrod points out that cover crops have other benefits such as holding soluble plant nutrients, adding organic matter, and holding tree leaves in orchards and silt on overflow land. Cover crops also cushion the soil from compaction by heavy rain or steady rains. In addition, they also help beautify some otherwise rather drab looking fields.

Federal cost-sharing assistance is available to farmers who plant cover crops providing they make application and receive approval before planting and otherwise comply with planting requirements. Applications for cost sharing are made with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office, St. Helens.
