

Voters to Make Choice Tuesday

Next Tuesday, voters will trek to the polls to cast their votes for offices ranging from president of the United States to city councilmen. Also, a number of state measures will appear on the ballot.

Voter's pamphlets have gone out to registered voters in which pros and cons are given for the measures. Also, most candidates are listed, though some have elected to use the money a page in the pamphlet costs to advertise in local papers and by

Truck Permit Loss Possible

Oregon log truckers for the first time are facing the possibility of losing their state PUC permits under the term of a 1963 non-use amendment to the state motor code.

Public Utility Commissioner Jonel C. Hill, who is charged with the enforcement of the motor code, announced that 535 complaints have been served by mail to permittees who, according to state records, have not hauled logs since September, 1963.

The log haulers named in the complaints have 20 days to file an answer with the PUC, either confirming or denying the allegations. Those who deny the charges will be subject to hearing at a later date.

At the request of the log truckers the state motor transportation code was amended in 1963 by the legislature to allow motor carriers of logs, poles or piling to be inactive for 12 months. Any longer period of non-use makes the holder subject to cancellation.

Hill said cancellation of the inactive permits will save the taxpayers about $1200 per year. It requires that much expense to process, print and mail mandatory notices to the inactive carriers.

4-Hers Given Work Awards

Vernonia 4-H Achievement Day was held in the music room in the Washington grade school October 21.

Entertainment consisted of a clarinet duet by Colleen Webb and Sharon Gibson.

Mrs. Henry Anderegg told how Maple Meadows livestock club was originated.

Robert Stevely, county 4-H club agent, gave pins and certificates to all 4-Hers who completed their projects last year. Also, pins and certificates were handed out to the 4-H leaders and assistant leaders.

Several new 4-Hers signed up for the coming year. At this time, Vernonia leaders offer the following projects: Cooking, sewing, knitting, outdoor cookery, livestock and horse. Anyone interested in any of these projects may call Mrs. Richard Huntman, HA 9-5535 or Mrs. Francis Wright, HA 9-5828. Members must be between the ages of 9 and 19.

Also, many other projects are available such as beekeeping, entomology, forestry, archery, fishing, gun safety, milk, woodworking, electricity, and many others.

Refreshments were served by the Vernonia leaders.

Historical Group Hears Report Of State Society Annual Meet

The Columbia County Historical Society met Wednesday, October 21, in the 4-H dining room at the county fairgrounds. The meeting was called to order by President Wm. C. Wood of Clatskanie following the bountiful noon meal.

A report was read from Mrs. Lloyd Burris on the state society's annual meeting of October 16 which they attended to represent the county society. Over 400 were in attendance to hear the speakers and enjoy the banquet in the Mayfair room, Benson hotel.

Mrs. Madge Hiatt Bunce told of the origin of the Delicious apple. The story is that the apple was discovered in 1872 in the Jesse Hiatt orchard in Madison county, Iowa.

Jesse Hiatt, great-uncle of the Hiatts here, and Mrs. Bunce, came to Iowa from Indiana in 1855. He started an orchard in due time, and in 1864 he bought and planted several Bellflower apple trees. One died down to the root, but put up a vigorous sprout which he cut off several times, but it persisted until he finally let it grow.

Locally, there is one candidate for a county office. Dane Brady is making a bid for write-in votes for county commissioner. His name will not be printed on the ballot given voters Tuesday, but an ad in this paper and leaflets he has distributed widely show the correct procedure for writing in his name and marking the ballot. Local people who are interested in having this part of the county represented on the county court should pay close attention to the proper procedure to follow.

On the city level, residents of Vernonia will elect a mayor and two councilmen and register their wishes concerning adoption of a building code. Residents of the newly annexed areas swell the total of city voters this year.

Polling places for the four Vernonia precincts are: Precinct 1, west of Rock Creek and north of Bridge street, West Oregon Electric building; precinct 2, east of Rock Creek and north of Bridge street, extending out Keasey route, the Union hall; OA hill, Riverview and part of Mist route, Washington school; precinct 4, west of Rock creek and south of Bridge street and extending out Timber road, fire hall.

Polls open at 8:00 a.m. and remain open until 8:00 p.m.

Weed Control Confab Topic

Weed control in seed crops, horticultural crops, farm ponds and forest areas will be discussed at the 13th annual Oregon Weed conference, to be held at the Marion Motor hotel, Salem, on November 5, reports County Extension Agent Don Coin Walrod.

Chemical company representatives will hold special discussion periods on new herbicides. Bill Harvey, extension weed control specialist, University of California will talk about the public's interest in pesticides. Rex Warren, extension farm crops specialist and secretary of the conference, reports that purpose of the Oregon Weed Conference is to promote safe effective use of herbicides. The public is invited to attend the meeting. Programs are available from county extension offices.

Street Name Hearing Due

A legal notice elsewhere in this issue calls for a public hearing next Monday evening, November 2, at the city hall at 8:00 p.m. just prior to the meeting of the city council, on the petitioned request for the change of the name of the part of highway 47 which passes through Riverview from Pomona Drive to Mist Drive.

The name Pomona Drive was selected some time ago by the planning commission. Since that time, residents of the area have voiced disapproval and have presented a petition asking for the change. The hearing was called so that they may present their case and all interested persons should appear at the city hall Monday evening.

Eight years later in 1872, the sprout had become a stalwart tree, bore its first fruit, apples of unusual size, but of fine flavor. He christened the apple, Hawkeye, after the state of Iowa.

In 1894 a nurseryman saw the fruit, contracted for the sole right of propagation, renamed it Delicious, and secured the initial stock of cuttings from the mother tree. The introduction and popularizing of the fruit is said to have cost more than $700,000, but they are now sold everywhere.

Mrs. Fred Covlin told of attending school at Neer City, and was glad that the society now has the bell from the school. She attended when the bell was new.

Orders for the historical booklets continue to come, with a letter of appreciation being received from the Library of Congress for their copies. Orders have come from Washington State Library, University of Washington and Wisconsin State libraries. Material is being received for another issue.

The next meeting of the society is planned for December 9.

Loggers Win 39-13 Victory Friday Night

Vernonia's Loggers went into play last Friday evening against the Neahkahnie eleven and took the measure of that squad to the tune of 39-13 in one of the best offensive and defensive efforts of the local eleven to date.

Coach Wendel's charges went into the dressing room at the half time behind by the score of 13-7. Taking the field in the second half, they crossed Neahkahnie's goal five times while holding the opponents scoreless. The Loggers amassed a grand total of 378 yards, 140 passing and 238 in the rushing department, running a total of 70 plays.

Logger backs tallying points Friday evening were: Steele 2 TDs, 13-yard run and a 37-yard pass and run play; Larson, 2 TDs, one 15-yard pass and another for 20 yards; Johnston, a 6-yard run; Holsey from 12 yards out and Bellingham kicking three extra points.

Defensively, Mark Medges and Ray Hartzell each amassed 13 tackles and Bob Wood wound up with a total of 10.

This Friday night the Loggers will entertain the Seaside eleven on the local turf and once again they will be the underdog. The Gulls have four wins and three losses this year but they are tough and big. The Loggers will be out to knock off the Seagulls, a team they haven't defeated since 1953 when they won 38-6. Seniors on the present squad were in the first grade when this momentous event took place. Game time is 8 p.m.

The dinner will be served at 7:00 p.m.

Date Back In Order

Halloween is, as usual, this Saturday, October 31, not last Saturday as was inadvertently stated last week in the article about the change to standard time.

No effort was being made to change the calendar, too, but errors do creep in at times. Anyway, this is the week to watch out for goblins and be ready with treats for those small-fry trickers who will be out as soon as it is dark Saturday.

Glossenger to Head Ag Census

Robert L. Glossenger of St. Helens has been named a crew leader for the 1964 Census of Agriculture, according to John E. Tharaldson, director of the regional office of the U. S. Bureau of Census at Seattle. The new crew leader is one of about 1,825 persons throughout the U. S. to receive this appointment.

Glossenger will supervise a team of census enumerators who will visit farms and ranches in Clatsop, Columbia and Washington counties to collect official census questionnaires from farm operators during November and early December.

The census will be taken in the following way: Shortly after November 5, the Bureau of the Census, an agency of the U.S. Department of Commerce, will mail census questionnaires to all rural boxholders. Those required to fill out the forms should do so and hold the questionnaires until a census enumerator comes to collect them. At that time, the enumerator will help answer any questions that may have proved troublesome.

The crew leader is a key person in conducting a Census of Agriculture. He recruits and trains the enumerators, schedules their work, reviews the accuracy of completed forms, and conducts difficult interviews.

The Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in years ending in '4' and '9' to gather information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. Such information is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U.S. economy. Data gathered includes the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock inventories, and information on farm equipment and improvements and income and some production expenditures.

The information will be published, starting in 1965 for counties, states and the nation.

Seniors, Sophs Win Grid Game

A humorous game of football was played Saturday night when the sophomore and senior girls clashed with the freshman and junior girls in their annual powderpuff football game. The sophomore and senior girls ended up on top with a score of 25-14.

Action started early when Marsha Krieger, in the second play of the game, ran about 85 yards for the first touchdown for the freshman-junior team. From then on the scrambling for touchdowns was fairly equal.

Those scoring for the sophomores and seniors were: Linda Jensen, Virginia Nelson, Ann Sargent, and Sally Knowlton. The other score for the freshmen and juniors came from Linda Lucore.

The course is a "special youth training program" which will train a total of 250 Oregon youths in 12 sections of 20-21 students each. Three sections have already started and the fourth section will start Monday, November 16.

To be eligible for training the young men must be physically fit, willing and able to work in the logging areas of the state on completion of their training and age 18 through 21. Some youths may enter training if they will reach their 18th birthday before the end of their training period.

Elkins stated that the course is

Students Schedule Events for Annual Homecoming Observance

This is homecoming week end at Vernonia high school and activities will be kicked off Thursday evening with the coronation of the queen, serpentine and rally bonfire at the school field.

The Paul Bunyan club has chosen Betty Jo Aldrich, Christine King and Janet Bruce, all seniors, as candidates for queen. Voting by the entire student body took place Wednesday at the school but results will not be announced until this evening (Thursday) at 7:00 p.m. when one will be crowned as queen and the other two will be the princesses to ride in the parade through town prior to the bonfire and rally at the school. The coronation ceremonies are open to any who wish to attend, as is the bonfire and rally.

Friday evening, the queen and her court will be presented prior to the start of the game between the Loggers and Seaside. At halftime, there will be announcement of the winning signs which have been made by classes and school organizations and will appear in the serpentine parade Thursday evening.

Following the game, there will be

Chief Suggests Use of Make-up

Police Chief A. D. Lolley urges parents to use make-up instead of masks in getting their children ready for Halloween.

Masks with holes for eyes block a child's peripheral vision — or his ability to see on either side — blinding him to approaching traffic and if the mask slips the child is completely blinded," Lolley stated.

He suggested that parents use a little eyebrow pencil, lipstick, powder and ingenuity to create Halloween disguises.

"And," he added, "before sending youngsters out on their trick-or-treat missions remind them to be alert in traffic and to cross streets only at intersections."

Two Late Season Hunts Offered; Summer Angling Season to End

Two late season hunts give deer tag holders unsuccessful during the general season which closed October 25, another chance to bag a deer before the year is out. These include the Northwest agricultural hunt scheduled for November 7 through 15, and the North Willamette Area scheduled December 5 and 6. Requirements for these hunts include hunting license and unused general season deer tag. Deer of either sex will be legal game during these two late season hunts.

Several other extended hunts are on the agenda for deer hunters on specified days and areas during November and December, but these hunters are restricted to unit permit holders in the respective units in which the hunts will be held.

Oregon anglers have only a few more days left of the 1964 general trout season. October 31 is the cutoff date, which closes most waters of the state for trout fishing under summer rules.

Beginning November 1, anglers must fish according to the winter angling regulations found in the angling synopsis beginning on page 40. Columbia river regulations will be found on pages 38, 39, and 40. Con-

a dance in the high school gym sponsored by the Girls Athletic association. This group has selected three princesses, Charlie Robertson, Mark Medges and Ray Hartzell, and the entire studentbody has the privilege of voting on them to select a king who will be crowned at the dance.

Admission prices for the dance are 75 cents per couple or 50 cents stag.

Law Specifies Rule on Voting

Under present Oregon election laws, any voter who has moved since the close of registration October 3 within Columbia county, even within his own precinct, must obtain a "Certificate of Registration" from the county clerk's office in order to vote a full ballot at the general election to be held November 3.

If he fails to do this he will be challenged when presenting himself to vote at his old precinct.

As a result of being challenged, where the voter has moved since the close of voter registration October 3 and has not obtained a "Certificate of Registration" from the clerk's office, he will be allowed only a limited ballot when voting. A limited ballot excludes all the county races and will be so noted on the back of the voter's ballot.

Boys Practice For Final Try

The first session of the punt and pass practice conducted by Coach Robert Wendel for boys aged 11, 12 and 13 was held last Saturday morning at the high school field. About 25 enthusiastic boys turned out and they will assemble again this Saturday at 11 a.m. for the semi-finals.

Finals will take place at halftime during the Logger-Concordia game November 6.

rary to summer regulations where all waters are open to angling unless specified, the winter rules list only those waters in which angling is permissible.

Bag limits are also reduced to two trout, salmon or steelhead 12 inches or over per day, four such fish in possession or in seven consecutive days.

Anglers are reminded that a few lakes and streams remain open to trout angling the year around in which the summer bag limits apply. These waters will be found listed by zone under the summer regulations from page 9 through page 38.

Oregon fishermen are advised that the angling regulations for the 1965 season will be considered by the game commission at a public hearing scheduled for 10 a.m., Friday, November 6, at the commission's headquarters, 1634 S.W. Alder.

The meeting will be recessed for 10 days to publicize proposed changes or new regulations for the 1965 season.

Final regulations will be adopted by the commission when the hearing is reconvened at 10 a.m. Monday, November 16.
