$ Letter to The Editor

I am deeply grateful for the opportunity to carry on the work of the late Walter Norblad as Congressman for the First Congressional District. Let me extend my sincere thanks to lished communities of Columbia the hundreds of volunteer workers who made possible my victory, and to the thousands of Republicans and Democrats who honored me with

During my campaign, I stressed my determination to represent the First District with a forthright and active voice in Congress. I intend to honor this pledge with all my energy, and to respond to the problems of every resident of the District. Although elections are now over, I will need continued supoprt and counsel in meeting the challenge afforded me. My door in Washington will always be open, and no communication Oblack. Farmers Slate Vote for ASCS

Columbia county farmers will elect community committeemen on ballots mailed from the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office Monday, November 16, reports County Extension Agent Don Coin Walrod.

Nominees are from the five estab-

Each community elects three regular committee members and two alternates. The chairman, vice chairman and regular member of the elected ASC community committee will also serve as delegate, alternate delegate, and second alternate delegate, respectively, to the county convention where the ASC county committee will be chosen.

The nominees from the Nehaleni valley are as follows: Bruce Berndt, Archie Dass, Robert DuPuis, Loyd Garlock, Howard Grimsbo, Walter Mathews, Marvin Meyer, Max

Ballots for community committeemen must be returned to the ASCS office by December 1, according to William Armstrong, office manager. Ballots will be tabulated publicly by the incumbent county committee starting at 10:00 a.m., December 3, at the ASCS office.

The county convention to elect a three-man county ASCS committee will be held December 10, starting at

Generally, a farm owner, tenant or sharecropper may vote in the community committee election if he is taking part or is eligible to take part in one or more of the programs administered by the ASC committees. Questions on eligibility to vote and hold office, or on the election procedure, will be settled by the incumbent community committee. Appeals from such decisions may be made promptly to the county and to the state committees.

Qualifications of persons eligible to hold office as a committeeman in clude eligibility to vote in the election and being a local resident. It is also highly desirable that nominees be currently active farmers or ranchers who are qualified for community committee work and who will be representative of the various sections and types of agriculture in the community. Further information on committeeman qualifications may be obtained from the ASCS County Office.

THANK YOU . . .

I would like to express my appreciation for the vote of confidence by the many fine people throughout Columbia County who worked for and voted for me.

I further express the need for all of us to work together in all areas of government, to forge with understanding a new discipline for solutions to our problems. Through unity of purpose we will accomplish these tasks set before us.

And to the many people who supported my friend, Judge John Whipple, who has made many fine contributions to Columbia County's growth and stature, we solicit your sincere co-operation for the good of Columbia County where we share the mutual desire for a bright future.

Earl N. Seawright County Judge Elect.

The Thanksgiving season is with us again, turning thoughts to the many reasons for thankfulness on the part of each of us. May we wish you, our loyal patrons, a large measure of all the good things Thanksgiving offers, and we thank you for the many joys your continued friendship has brought to us.
