Welfare Costs for December in County Lists Total of $37,258

Roy K. Smith, administrator for the Columbia County Public Welfare Commission reports the following expenditures for the month ending December 31: General assistance, $2,603.31; foster care, $2,424.73; old age assistance, $817.45; aid to dependent children, $11,755.53; aid to the blind, $414.49; aid to the disabled, $4,796.01; Kerr Mills program, $7,085.61; total expenditures, $37,258.13.

Of the above expenditures, $11,452.38 was from state funds; $20,897.60 from federal funds, and $4,908.15 from county funds.

Child welfare workers gave service to 98 children in the county, including 54 in foster homes and one in an adoptive home. There are 33 certified foster homes in use at this time.

Thirteen men with families are working out their need for welfare assistance on the community work and training program under the county road department supervision.

In Columbia county of the 2,944 persons eligible for the surplus food program 1,798 persons made use of this service.

Several personnel changes have taken place within the welfare department.

New personnel includes Miss Grace E. Elliott of Astoria who attended Pacific University and received her degree from Portland State College. Before coming to St. Helens, Miss Elliott spent six months in Australia as an International Farm Youth Exchange student during 1963 and 1964. She then toured Oregon for several months speaking to various civic organizations. Miss Elliott replaces Mrs. Hawkins who recently transferred to the child welfare department.

Also added to the staff is Mrs. Richard W. Hamilton, a St. Helens resident, who graduated from the University of Oregon and worked for the welfare department for a time in 1952. She is now returning to the agency as a child welfare worker. Mrs. Hamilton is a St. Helens high school graduate and has been in business with her husband locally for several years. She is replacing Miss Betty Brandt who is leaving St. Helens to be married and will reside in California.
