Mrs. Ralph Markham has been making frequent trips the past ten days to the Veterans hospital to see her husband who has been undergoing treatment. She found him able to be up a little when she was there Sunday.

Mrs. L. H. Thomas is slowly gaining strength following a bout of flu which kept her down for several days.

The November coffee hour for district teachers was held Tuesday evening of last week at Vernonia high school with Mrs. Alvilda Hearing, Mrs. Ora Bolmeier, Dave Allison, Dan Lawler and Darrold Proehl as the committee in charge. The next get together will be a Christmas party at the Washington school.

Mrs. Beaulah Hall drove to Portland last Saturday to take Mrs. Lois Shaw in for medical attention and also to take a load of toys to the Toy and Joy Makers. Only a few people responded to the invitation to attend the Legion Auxiliary's toy party but one person, T. F. Tomlin, supplied the amount needed for a load for he rounded up a pick-up load of broken bicycles, trikes, etc. She stated that the Toy and Joy Makers were very pleased to get the wheels and bicycle parts. They salvage all parts and can renovate bikes by combining them to make useable ones.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Davies were in Portland Tuesday evening to meet their son Craig at the airport when he arrived for the Christmas vacation. He attends Penn State University where he is doing graduate work for his masters degree in engineering. The Davies also called on her father, Ed Salomonsen, at St. Vincent's hospital.

Mrs. Justin Folken visited last week end at Veneta with Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Strong. She states that the Strong's son Denny is in the service and is at San Diego and his wife is living in Springfield. Gary Strong is a student at the University of Oregon in architecture and David is at OSU, Corvallis, studying mechanical engineering. Both of them are married, also. The daughter, Judi, and her husband live near the Strongs.

Marines were among the first troops to arrive on the scene for rescue work during the great fire and earthquake in San Francisco in 1906.

Past experiences teach people valuable lessons, but make poor patterns for the future.

Senior Citizens Urged to Make Use of Aid Program

Columbia County Judge Earl N. Seawright stated this week that it has come to the attention of the county court that only about 10 per cent of those qualified for Medicare have signed up for this service and the court wishes to advise those qualified that the agent for Social Security Administration is in the sheriff's office of the county court-house every Monday from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon. Those qualified should plan immediately to register for future services.

The court would also like to make senior citizens aware of the following tax exemptions on property tax that are available to them. If they would like these tax discounts they should call the county tax office any time Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Those that have incomes under $2,500 per year qualify for these exemptions covering these age brackets: 65-68, 10 percent; 69-71, 30 percent; 72-74, 50 percent; 75-77, 70 percent; 78-79, 90 percent; 80 and over, 100 percent.

He stated that the county court also advises those senior citizens whose income is $128 or less per month of their eligibility for surplus food. He feels that they should be encouraged to take advantage of this county program because it was established primarily to extend their incomes.

It should be noted that these are not welfare programs but programs designed to help low-income families and they are encouraged to use these facilities. The Surplus Food Store is located in the Dillard building on Columbia boulevard at Fourth street in St. Helens.

Since the last Congress has initiated many programs to help senior citizens, the county court wishes them to fully utilize these services and any new services that will be implemented in the future, Seawright concluded.

Clear Address Aids Delivery

One of the biggest problems postal employees face is illegible handwriting. At Christmas time, when mail volumes skyrocket, this can become a major problem. Postmaster Bateman states.

"The use of ZIP codes by mailers does help speed up the process because often if the city and state are unreadable the ZIP code will direct the mail to the post office from which it will be delivered. Clerks in that post office, being more familiar with local residents, may be able to figure out the person to whom the mail should be delivered."

Another significant problem is the number of parcels delayed or actually undelivered because of poor wrapping or packaging. Postmaster Bateman urged that special care be taken to see that each package is tightly stuffed and that nothing rattles around inside.

Parcels are generally shipped in bags and often heavier items rest on top of smaller, lighter packages. The postmaster encouraged mailers to be a bit cautious and insure all packages. All parcels should be addressed on only one side and should have the address written somewhere on the inside of the package in case the exterior wrapping should come off. It is a good idea to also enclose a list of the contents.

Poor packaging and illegible or incorrect addressing accounts for about half a million undelivered parcels each year.

Pop's long drawn-out alibi usually gets cut short on the home stretch.

Know your abilities—faith is no problem to the man who has confidence in himself.
