

Wildlife Film Scheduled Here

Don and June Mulford will show their "Olympic Wildlife" movie in Vernonia at the Joy Theatre, Monday, December 27 and in Clatskanie at the Avalon Theatre, Tuesday, December 28 at 8 p. m. This movie will be shown in magnificent color and Don will give live narration.

Don and June Mulford's "Olympic Wildlife" is a credit to the Olympic National Park. They have captured the grandeur and beauty of the Mighty Olympics, the Majestic Bulls in their mighty moments of battle and the heart warming tenderness of the baby elk calves. They have captured the beauty of the deer in the "Rain Forest", as fawn, spikes and large bucks, and the dancing and playfulness of the bears is spectacular.

Don and June Mulford had already become famous with their "Mexico to Canada Trailride" and other wildlife movies, but their "Olympic Wildlife" beat all expectations and is climaxed with the greatest bull fight ever filmed "Of all my time in the hills," Don said, "Filming this bull fight was the greatest thrill of my life. As we were crawling through the underbrush, the bugling reached a crescendo. We knew the fight would start at any moment. A crash of antlers just across an opening and the fight was on. We were within 25 yards of these giant bulls, and the way they were tearing up everything that got in their path, we could very easily get run over. They would lock antlers with terrific force. Their determination to get at one another was so great that a log caught in one bull's antlers was carried along in his fierce charge."

He states that this is a chance to learn of the beauty of the Olympic National Park and where one can go into the back country with horses and camp out as they do. It is an opportunity to gain much information on the life and habits of the Roosevelt Elk.

As one goes with Don and June via film, he will capture the mood of the "High Country," following the elk in their native habitat; travel through the "Rain Forest," along beautiful rivers and streams, by magnificent waterfalls in the "Enchanted Valley," and through meadows of alpine flowers and will cross snowfields with many snow-capped mountains and glaciers above.

Admission prices are adults $1, children 11 and under, 50c and under 5 free. Doors open at 7 and the show starts at 8 and is over at 10.

Two Men Hospitalized And Another Released

RIVERVIEW — Clifford Fowler underwent surgery at the Tuahly hospital in Hillsboro Monday. He is making good recovery.

George Peachey was taken to the U. S. Veteran's hospital in Portland Wednesday suffering with pneumonia. Friday his wife, Agnes, and mother Mrs. Grace Peachey accompanied Mrs. Carson Strong to visit him and found him much improved. L. H. Sargent returned home with them after about a two week stay in that hospital. He is now living at the Cherry Tree apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Morgan of Portland and Mrs. Myrtle Snook visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Snook Saturday.

Red Cross TV Course Offered

Columbia county residents within the viewing range of KOAP-TV, channel 10, Portland, will soon have an opportunity to get Red Cross first aid training in the comfort of their living rooms.

Guy Thomas of Vernonia and Rod Norwood of St. Helens, both members of the board of directors of the Oregon Trail chapter of Red Cross, jointly announced that channel 10 will broadcast the training films in ten half-hour sessions on Tuesday evenings at 7:00 p.m. beginning January 4.

The two Red Cross board members from Columbia county pointed out that viewers will, as a bonus, have an opportunity to complete the course and earn a Red Cross first aid certificate by pre-registration, use of textbooks, and attendance of two work sessions to practice skills and evaluate abilities.

Thomas and Norwood have made arrangements with the safety services department of the Oregon Trail chapter so that two work sessions necessary for viewers completion of the course will be held in St. Helens dependent on the volume of pre-registration. The place, dates, and times of the work sessions will be announced later to registrants.

For maximum benefits, viewers are encouraged to pre-register by sending their name, address, and one dollar to cover the cost of the first aid textbook and work book, to the Oregon Trail Chapter, American Red Cross, 4200 S. W. Corbett Ave., Portland, Oregon 97201.

With the rate of accidental deaths constantly rising (105,000 in the nation last year), the two Red Cross board members from Columbia county are encouraging as many as possible to take advantage of this valuable training which might well save lives.
