Mother's Day Is Theme of Appeal

CARE is appealing for donations to honor American mothers on Mother's Day, May 8, the contributions to help needy mothers and children overseas, according to the regional office of the overseas relief agency here.

Under the plan announced by CARE's executive director, Frank L. Goffio of New York, every dollar will send a food package in the name of the mother designated by the donor, to a mother in Asia, Africa, Europe or Latin America. A typical package contains 27 pounds of wholesome foods.

The CARE-Mother's Day plan is part of the international agency's year-long feeding programs benefiting 37,000,000 persons.

Donations should include the name and address of the mother honored, so that CARE can notify her, and should be sent to CARE's Northwest office, Frederick & Nelson, Seattle.

SWCD Merger to Be Considered

The Scappoose-Rainier and Clatskanie Soil and Water Conservation district supervisors held a joint meeting April 20 in the St. Helens SCS office, according to Andy Pavelek of the SCS.

Robert Brown, administrative officer of the state soil and water conservation committee, explained the legal procedures required to combine the two SWCD's into one county-wide district.

A hearing was set for May 18 at 8 p.m. in the Odd Fellows hall in Rainier. Any landowner opposing this merger can voice his objections at this meeting.

The board of supervisors of both districts feel it would be easier to administer one county-wide district with more efficient use of technical assistance.

Family History Told at Meet

April 20 the Columbia County Historical Society met in the 4-H exhibit building on the county fairgrounds. After enjoying a noon potluck luncheon the meeting was called to order by President Wm. Wood.

Mrs. Thompson, great-granddaughter of F. Hodgkins, a pioneer of this area, was present and told of her ancestors coming across the Isthmus of Panama by narrow gauge railway, then up the coast and later fishing along the Columbia. She had many pictures of pioneer days. Mrs. Thompson's home is in Milwaukee.

Many visitors are reported at the county museum, with renewed interest being shown. Since Columbia county was able to contribute over $3,000 to OMSI, it is thought all here should be able and willing to support their own county museum by donation of historical articles for exhibit and also by visiting and seeing what a fine start has been made on an historical display.

Material is being collected for the next volume of Columbia county history, and it is urged that this should be in the hands of the secretary by May 1 so it may be made ready for printing this year. It is desired that all parts of the county be represented in these stories, but it is necessary for someone to work up accounts of their families or towns before the material can be printed.

It is planned to meet in the Vernonia Grange hall in Vernonia May 18. It will also be possible to see the museum that day.

West Coast to Change Tariffs

West Coast Telephone company announced this week that, on calls completed jointly by West Coast and Pacific Northwest Bell, they will concur with the tariffs filed by Pacific Northwest Bell to reduce intra-state long distance rates effective June 1, 1966.

A new "After 10" rate also will be applied by West Coast Telephone on intra-state station - to - station calls completed jointly by West Coast and PNB. Maximum charge for calls of this kind placed between 10 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. will be $1.00 for the first 10 minutes.

According to Division Manager L. E. Cross, the rate reduction will mean an annual saving of approximately $281,000 to West Coast Telephone customers in the state of Oregon.

Cancer Society Seeking Funds

Kick-off for the American Cancer Society fund drive was a coffee hour last Friday morning attended by 14 of the 26 volunteers who are carrying out the local drive under the chairmanship of Mrs. B. J. Horn. April is cancer month by presidential proclamation and the local drive is being conducted in this final week of the month.

Mrs. Horn has assigned volunteers to the various areas for solicitation and they will be leaving information leaflets with the people called on. Educational material stresses early detection and prompt treatment. Funds are needed for more educational work and research in order to increase the number of patients saved from untimely cancer death.

Members of the Vernonia high school chapter of the National Honor Society and of the student council were honored Tuesday evening at a banquet given by the district 47J school board and served at the Masonic temple by the Nehalem Social club. All members of the high school faculty and their husbands and wives also were included in the guest list.

Jerry Hanson, president of the student council, introduced members of that group which includes studentbody officers and representatives from each class. Welcome Rumbaugh, high school principal and faculty advisor for the student council, outlined the purposes of the group and the responsibilities delegated to them.

Fred Smith, president of the Honor Society, introduced officers and members of that group. Harold McEntire, faculty advisor, also spoke concerning the purposes and aims of the organization and its history in Vernonia high school.

Guest speaker for the evening was Whitey Coker, news director for KISN radio in Portland, who told about a trip he had made to Viet Nam and his experiences during the two weeks spent there. He emphasized the backwardness of the country in contrast to the United States. He also said that in his contact with the United States troops he found that the boys were well aware of why they were there and felt it was right and necessary to be there. He related many personal experiences during his stay.

Music for the evenings program was provided by the high school brass sextet under the direction of Charles Randall.

Students Awed By Abilities

Students were thrilled and amazed at the ability of Jack Chase who appeared here Tuesday in a National Assembly program to demonstrate his playing of basketball from a wheelchair.

Chase was stricken with polio when 20 years old and his legs are paralyzed. Since then he attended the University of Illinois and after graduation, attended L.I.F.E. Bible College in Los Angeles. Upon completion of his studies he entered the ministry.

While in California he played basketball with the Flying Wheels, a team composed of disabled veterans. He has toured widely to demonstrate what can be done in an effort to encourage handicapped people to surmount their difficulties.

Two high school boys were selected to assist him in his demonstration Tuesday.
