

4-H Week Is October 7-13

The 4-H club program keeps growing and throughout the United States those 4-H'ers which now number more than five million will be celebrating National 4-H Club Week October 7-13. 4-H will be brought to the attention of the public in many areas through window displays, which will tell the story of the over 50 different projects available to boys and girls in the program.

Columbia County boys and girls eligible to become 4-H club members will be contacted through the schools by a team of 4-H community coordinators. Some of these community coordinators are new to the 4-H club program but attended a training program at the courthouse in St. Helens on September 25. They will be concentrating their efforts looking for those people interested in youth who are willing to spend a small part of their time leading a 4-H club. These people can be teen leaders, who must be juniors or seniors in high school and must have an adult advisor but will be leading their own club. They can be mothers, fathers, grandmothers, or grandfathers, working people or retired people.

Faye Sword will be coordinating the 4-H program in the Vernonia area. Pat Wilson and Judy Phelps are coordinators for the Scappoose area. Mollie Lamoureux will be working mainly in the McBride School area in St. Helens. Rose Humbert has charge of the Canaan, Deer Island, Columbia City area. Joe Dean Wheeler is community coordinator for the Rainier Elementary School area. Lorraine Dodge is working with Goble School area. Betty Langworthy at the Delena and Hudson Schools.

Oregon like many other states is trying to determine how to attract more males to the 4-H club program. Girls outnumber the boys two to one. More men leaders are needed for certain projects to attract boys to the program. Boys 9 to 12 years old function well in all 4-H clubs with male leaders. Older boys prefer mixed boy-girl groups. Teen leaders, at least juniors in high school, are effective with 9 to 12 year olds and boys make just as good teen leaders as girls.

Quick Suggestions

When adding stewed figs to cakes, puddings, breads, cookies and so on, here's a quick way to do it. With scissors, snip off the stems, then place the figs in a mixing bowl. Use the electric beater or hand beater. The figs will whirl themselves into tiny bits.

Open House Held By Reading Students

Tuesday, October 2, the Developmental Reading Class of Vernonia High School, held an open house for parents of the students in class.

The Open House was to explain to the parents, the program from which the students are learning and also to show them the materials the students would be using in their future work.

Mrs. Christine Hendryx, the teacher of the class, expressed much disappointment in that only one parent attended the program.

Physicals Given To Incoming Students

October 2 and 3, the girls, boys, and freshmen, transfer students as well as those who participate in sports were given a physical by Dr. T.M. Hobart, with Mrs. Peterson assisting him in the girls examinations.

The high school has to give these examinations because it is a state requirement.

Thirty-two boys and 55 girls took the physical.

VHS 'Swine' Smash Ladies

Male Chauvinists rejoice, the so-called male pigs, (or boars,) of Vernonia Union High School have finally earned the right to be known as just plain folks.

The issue was settled Thursday, October 4, when the supposedly best six male volleyball players squashed the girls' varsity team in the best two out of three games. Although the girls did win the first game quite convincingly, the boys came back to win in the next game, and skunked the girls in the last contest.

It all started when the boys' PE classes began playing volleyball last week. Mr. Nice, seeing how well some of the men were doing at the ladies' game, arranged a match between the men and girls.

The men were heavy 5 to 2 underdogs, according to Vernonia High oddsmaker Gordon "The Swede" Crowston.

Ever since the first match, daily battles have been staged during noon hour. So far, the boys hold a big lead.

Success Greeted Few Hopeful VHS Hunters

It was the morning of October 6, 1973; it was D-day (deer-day) for most VHS hunters. "Bucks" were the game, but about 200 doe permits for Clatsop and 300 permits for Scappoose units will put a few doe hunters afield.

The hard hunter was out there from the crack of dawn 'til the last rays of sunshine. Then there is the easier going hunter, who hunts the road with his 4-wheel drive trying to run his deer down.

Before season reports from local dealers that handle license and tags were reporting unusual numbers of licenses and tags being sold. One reason could be the high meat prices.

Hunting season started this year for western Oregon from October 6 to November 11 and eastern Oregon from October 6 to 18. Also starting Saturday is grouse season.

VHS students that shot their bucks opening weekend are Ken Enneberg, and Eddie Becker. Eddie Buckner and Rick Gwin shared the kill of a forked-horn.

NROTC Scholarship Explained To Class

Last Friday the Senior Class was told about the Navy-Marine Scholarship Program.

They were told the many advantages of the NROTC scholarship Program and some of the academic and physical requirements for it. In college, certain classes are required for NROTC members.

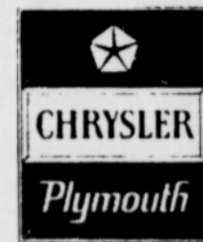

NROTC was just opened up for women last year, with 16 in the program last year. It was also brought up that on tests women usually score higher than men, not only on the test as a whole, but also on the mechanical part of the test.

Bake Sale At VHS By Language Club

Ways of making money were discussed at Foreign Language Club meeting held last week.

The meeting was called to order by President Chris Collins. Several suggestions were made for making money, including a car wash, a bake sale, a foreign food bake sale, and a dance.

A motion was made by Vickie Serby to have a bake sale during activity period and lunch at the high school on Thursday, October 11. The motion was passed and will be presented at Student Council.
