Church Notes
Evangelical
Friday and Saturday are retreat days for the Juniors and Junior High groups. Each group will travel to Camp Tilikum for an overnight retreat. Prayer meeting for the needs of our community Friday evening. Phone prayer requests to 429-5575.
Men's Prayer, Sunday School and the Worship Experience are scheduled for Sunday morning. Teen choir practice, the last in a series on Successful Dating and the Evangelical Youth in charge of the evening service are on tap for Sunday evening.
Hoot Owl Breakfast Tuesday morning. Evangelical Women have a prayer band meeting Wednesday at ten. Home Bible Classes meet Wednesday evenings.

Witnesses
The second in a series of seven talks will be given at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses, 49 Texas Avenue, this Sunday, November 11 at 10 a.m. The speaker, Kent Battrick, will review the material in the fifth and sixth chapters of the book "God's Kingdom of a Thousand Years Has Approached, using the theme "Rulership From Heaven - Will You Accept it?" Following the talk, will be a discussion based on the article "Loyalty in The Time of the End" from the October 1st issue of the Watchtower.
For a further schedule of the times and places of other meetings of Jehovah's Witnesses in this area, please contact Jim Milton, 429-7311.

Bible
Those persons looking for an active, friendly church that stands for the Word of God are extended a warm welcome to attend the following services:
Sunday School 9:45 a.m.
Morning Worship 11 a.m.
Evening Service 7 p.m.
Family Night (Wed.) 7:30 p.m.
Our Sunday School Bus is run throughout Vernonia every Sunday morning for those needing a ride to Sunday School and church. For the schedule of your neighborhood phone the bus captain at 429-3363.
Primary Church is held during the morning worship service for kindergarten through 4th grade and is geared to the understanding and needs of the boys and girls. Great times are planned!
Junior Youth Fellowship will be held this Sunday (November 11) evening at 5:45. We'll be playing Table Tennis for our recreation and have popcorn and Kool-aid for refreshments. We'll conclude with singing and a time of devotion. All 5th - 8th graders are welcome!
An adult Bible study on the book of St. John is held every Thursday evening at 7:30 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Zerling. It is conducted by Virgil Snook and everyone is invited.

Christian
All women are invited to the Women's Prayer Meeting Tuesday at 10 a.m.; also choir rehearsal on Wednesday evening at 7 p.m.
The book of Ephesians will be started at this evening's Bible study at the Orv Olson home.
This Sunday, November 11 at 6 p.m., Orv Olson will give a slide presentation of his African trip that was taken along with a group of Christian people. Following the evening fellowship hour, the Jr. Hi Youth Group and CYF meet at 7 p.m.
CWF meeting will be Wednesday, November 14 at 1:30 p.m.
CWF meeting will be Wednesday, November 14 at 1:30 p.m. All ladies are invited to this planning and social time. Any who would be able to come an hour before the meeting, could be helping complete a Bazaar project.

4-H Teams To Compete At PI
Columbia County 4-H judging teams will be competing with teams from other counties throughout Oregon, Washington, and Idaho at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition, Saturday, November 10. Members of the livestock judging team will be Michelle Sprague, Clatskanie; Betty Walker, Warren; and Randy Holdner, Scappoose. Members of the horse judging team will be Candy Jackson, Scappoose; Renee Ross, Deer Island; Barry Bergman, Clatskanie.
Contestants in the horse judging contest will place four classes of light horses or ponies. They will place the horses on the basis of conformation, type and breed characteristics. The Oregon Quarter Horse Association sponsors a rotating trophy to the high point team and awards a trophy to the high individual in judging quarter horses.

Small Animal Gives Young Experience
Parents who want to give their children the chance to raise a small, inexpensive animal should investigate the 4-H rabbit and poultry projects, points out Robert H. Stevely, Columbia County extension agent.
Both require only a small space. Both are relatively inexpensive to buy and to raise. Both can allow the young boy or girl to have the opportunity to watch an animal grow.
The 4-H rabbit project may just fit the family who lives in a suburban situation, points out Duane Johnson, Oregon State University extension 4-H and youth specialist.
In the poultry area, 4-H members throughout the state are showing an increasing interest in ducks, pigeons and fancy breeds of birds, Johnson explains, as well as the traditional laying hens or broiler breeds.
Animal lovers with small spaces might also investigate the 4-H small animal project which centers primarily around cabbies (guinea pigs), Johnson adds.
All of the 4-H small animal, poultry and rabbit projects give the young person a chance to learn how to work with animals, how to care for them properly and to gain some knowledge of the management practices necessary to raise animals successfully, Stevely emphasizes.
The projects also lend themselves to successful experiments, particularly in the area of nutrition. For instance, one Oregon 4-H poultry leader showed what happened when the birds are denied a properly balanced diet. Another 4-H poultry club experimented with different kinds and portions of feed rations, weighing the birds daily to check rates of gain or loss on the various diets.
"The learning options available in any of these projects are limited only by the imagination of both the 4-H leader and members," Stevely stresses.
Additional information about 4-H rabbit, poultry and small animal projects is available at the Columbia County extension office in St. Helens.

Agent Advises Proper Care For Turkey
Just how large should the Thanksgiving turkey be? "That depends not only on the number coming for dinner, but whether they will be staying for an evening snack, and whether you want leftovers to nibble on or freeze," says Carol A. Ashley, Columbia County Extension home economist.
For turkeys under 12 pounds, allow 3/4 to one pound per serving. When buying larger birds, over 12 pounds, allow 1/2 to 3/4 pounds per serving. Allow additional weight depending on the post-holiday turkey uses you have in mind.
Thaw the turkey slowly, advises Mrs. Ashley. If possible, arrange for room in the refrigerator, and allow one to three days for thawing. Or, place the bird in a large bag and allow to thaw at room temperature. This assures that the entire bird will remain at a safe cold temperature during the entire thawing time. Allow about one hour per pound for thawing.
If the bird is to be stuffed, do so just prior to roasting it. The dressing may be baked separately in a covered pan if you wish. Allow about 1 1/2 hours for the dressing to heat through. Always roast the bird completely in one continuous cooking period, even if it means getting up early to pop it in the oven.
A meat thermometer is the most accurate test for doneness. When inserted into thickest part of the thigh muscle, it should register 185 degrees. If your turkey was stuffed, also insert the thermometer into the center of the stuffing to be sure it registers 165 degrees.
The "feel" test for doneness may also be used. Turkey is cooked when the thickest part of the drumstick feels very soft when pressed between protected fingers.
Care properly for the cooked turkey, cautions the Extension agent. Soon after serving, refrigerate the meat, dressing and gravy in separate containers. When using leftovers, reheat only the amount to be used. Heat leftover gravy to a full rolling boil before serving.
Turkey leftovers to be served more than three days after serving should be wrapped and frozen. But never freeze a stuffed turkey, either uncooked or roasted.
