Attendance Subsidies When Bus Not Used

On Friday, February 8, after the Vernonia-Portland Christian game 5th Quarter was held at the Weller home.

The entertainment consisted of a film lasting about 15 minutes and was a surf odyssey with a very special meaning behind it.

"Tuba Steaks" and pop was served for refreshments, if anyone is wondering, "Tuba Steaks" are the fancy name for hot dogs.

After the movie R.N. Jensen gave a short devotional with a story from his own experience.

The bus was not running this time because of the few kids that ride the bus. The kids were left to find their own rides which cut down the attendance at 5th Quarter. If more kids are willing to ride the bus it will take off again.

There was some difficulty in getting a projector and screen located and set-up but everything worked out for the best.

Lack of Activities Leaves Little To Do

Since the Joy Theatre has recently closed its doors and there exists a gas shortage, VHS students are faced with an ever decreasing amount of activities.

For instance, where do you go on a date in Vernonia? There is now no movie every weekend. Of course you could go to such distant towns as Forest Grove, Clatskanie, or even Birkenfeld, but with hardly any gasoline available, taking your date to another town is just about out of the question.

The only activities left for students in Vernonia are sports, which are also limited. For example, the bowling alley is relatively small and stays open for only a short time each night.

School activities are also somewhat being curtailed because of the gas shortage, with no spectator buses available to go to any away sports activities and hardly any school related field are planned either.

About the only thing a high school student can do in Vernonia is either get a job or hang around Mario's Pizzeria.

To promote more activities, students and businessmen should get together to create more activities for the students and adults of Vernonia.

More activities could benefit both the high school and the town.

Class Meetings Held Tuesday Afternoon

The Sophomore class had a meeting in room 3 and they talked about having a bake sale and they also chose committees for the Prom.

The freshman class meeting was held in room 6. They discussed money making ideas.

Thursday, February 7, the Sophomores and Juniors had a meeting in room 4 to appoint committees for the Prom.

Sophomores Hold Profitable Sale Sat.

Vernonia High School's sophomore class held a bake sale Saturday, February 9, in hopes of getting the class a little bit more out of the hole.

The bake sale turned out to be a profitable one, and the class made $27.62.

At their class meeting February 5, they decided that anyone who did not contribute to the sale would be charged $1.

The class was in the hole $118.14 before the bake sale, but any profits will help them considerably.
