Wow to Save Quail in Winter.

General Speaks, our efficient state game warden, is receiving hundreds of letters asking for advice as to how to save the quall from starvation in the old-fashioned winter. The quail is about the most helpless bird we have in Ohio. Although it winters in this latitude, it hasn't the slightest idea how to take care of itself when the deep snows come. TROUSER GIRLS OUT OF JOBS

Milking Machine Now That Displaces Western Fair Ones Who Wore Men's Togs.

Seattle, Wash.-One of the model dairies in this state, located near North Yakima, has received a shipment of modern milking machines. As a result of this move toward increasing the efficiencies of the pure milk tests, more than 50 pretty whitetrousered girls are thrown out of employment
