

A Famous Fair.

In a vast country like Russia, hardly yet opened up by railway communication, it is not surprising that there should still be a great fair like that of Nishni Novgorod. This town forms the meeting place of Russian and Asiatic traders, and the amount of business done there is probably equal to that of half a dozen of the largest fairs of the middle ages. Vast quantities of skins, iron, tobacco and cheap manufactured goods lie about in great heaps, and surrounded by the waters of the Volga and the Oka on the great market place arise shops and booths to the enormous number of ten thousand, while the visitors exceed half a million. The total business transacted at each fair is said to be about two hundred and fifty million dollars, and the credits opened there exceed this figure.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

Something of a Joke.

A good example of the kind of story Mark Twain used to like to weave into his after-dinner speeches was the tale of the drinker who unwillingly put in an application for membership in a temperance society, sailed the next day on a three years' voyage, on which he kept the pledge in spite of longing and temptation, and returned to resign only to find that his name had been blackballed originally.—But-also Commercial.

His Faring Shot.

A local minister had had a serious time in fighting the saloon element in his town and had not been backed up in his efforts by the members of his own church. This with other troubles had led to his resignation, and in announcing his departure at his farewell sermon he said: "I am going to do something the devil has never done. I am going to leave C—."

Marks on Mahogany.

White stains made on a mahogany table by hot dishes may be removed by rubbing in oil and afterward pouring wine on the spot and rubbing dry with a soft cloth.

Eager for an Education.

A Poltava, south Russia, paper recently published an advertisement from a Jew who offered to pay the fees at a local gymnasium of three Christian children. The reason for the offer is obvious. By the admission of the three Christians an extra place under the percentage form would be provided for a Jew, and the advertiser hoped by this desperate means to secure the admission of his son.

The Clothes Brush.

Sometimes the useful clothes brush is the only unattractive thing on a lady's dressing table. The "pretties" never have good brushes, and the plain wooden handle can be made to harmonize with the room by covering it with flowered silk. Cover the raw edges with galon.

Maxims of a Novelist.

"Relations always want to know where you are going and what you are doing—there's nothing so curious as relations." "One gets to know people better in one's thoughts sometimes than when one is with them."—"Sir George's Objection," by Mrs. W. K. Clifford.

Roman Water-Mills.

Water-mills were used in the time of Julius Caesar. In Roman times slaves were condemned to the corn-mills, which were propelled by tread. Afterward cattle were used. In the third and fourth centuries there were as many as 300 cattle-mills in Rome.
