Rich Man, Poor Man.
You can easily tell a poor man from a rich one by examining his mail. The poor man's mail consists of requests for money that he owes; the rich man's for money that he doesn't owe.—Lippincott's.

Resumed Name of First Husband.
Because she did not wish to bear the same name as the second wife of her divorced husband, Mrs. Allene Tew Nichols got permission in New York to resume the name of her first husband.

Abode of the Evil One.
The heart of man is the place the devil's in.—Sir Thomas Browne.

THOSE GIRLS

Caroline—Ethel is very censorious of people who use cosmetics. She says she never did anything for her complexion.

Virginia—Jesse that's where she's wise. A complexion like hers is incorrigible.

Sufficient.

"My husband is just awful when he wants to find anything. You never saw a man throw clothes around the way he does." "Where did he learn to be so untidy?" "Why, he was in the New York custom house for four years."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Catchy Advertising.

A Dutchman had a cart from which he peddled wienersurst sausages. One day he saw on a bake wagon: "You need a biscuit." It struck him as a good advertisement, so he painted on his cart, "You need a biscuit, but you need a wiener wurst."

Effect But No Cause.

"So there's another rupture of Mount Vociferous," said Mrs. Partington, as she put on her specs. "The paper tells us about burning lather running down the mountains, but it don't tell how it got afire."

Grand Spectacle.

There is a spectacle that is grander than the ocean, and that is the sky. There is a spectacle that is grander than the sky, and that is the interior of the soul.—Hugo.

Normal Children.

All proper children are destructive. That is their way of finding out what things are made of. But they get over it. It is not well to take their inconvenient activities too seriously.—George Hodges, in Atlantic.

German Books Travel Far.

Germany does a very large and profitable trade with other countries in books printed in the German language. A largely increasing quantity is sent every year to Japan.

Examine Signatures.

A number of the larger banking institutions employ from one to half a dozen men whose sole duty is to examine every check that comes in through the clearing house, and vouch for the genuineness of the signatures.

New Advertising Idea.

A Philadelphian has obtained a patent for an aerial advertising sign, waved by an electric motor suspended from two captive balloons.

Our Expressive Language.

When you have to depend on the telephone for generally having to call a fellow up when you really want to call him down, generally have to call a fellow up when you really want to call him down.
