Railroads Place big Order for Equipment

The Journal is in receipt of information from D. E. Barley, general passenger agent of the Oregon Short Line, that an order has been given for 246 locomotives for the Union Pacific and Oregon Short Line railroads, delivery to begin April next.

In addition to the above, an order has been placed for 12,500 freight cars of various descriptions. As engines average from $28,000 each up, and freight cars run from $850 each up, it will be noted that considerable money outlay is involved in the order. This indicates that these roads are looking for a largely increased traffic and are taking this means of preparing for it.

Clubbing Offer With N. Y. World

This is a time of great events and you will want the news accurately and promptly. The democrats for the first time in sixteen years, will have the presidency and they will also control both branches of congress. The political news is sure to be of the most absorbing interest.

There is a great war in the old world, and you may read of the extinction of the vast Turkish empire in Europe, just as a few years ago you read how Spain lost her last foot of soil in America, after having ruled the empire of half the world.

The World long since established a record for impartiality, and any body can afford its thrice-a-week edition, which comes every other day in the week except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The thrice-a-week World also abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons, in fact, everything that is to be found in a first-class daily.

We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Gate City Journal together for one year for $1.75. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $2.50.

Woman Not Warmly Gird.

Doctors have recently testified with rather an unusual degree of unanimity, that women in these days do not dress warmly enough; that neurasthenia is often the result of wearing clothing of insufficient thickness. It is not poverty, they say, but style, that causes the difficulty. Women cannot imitate the sylph-like maiden of the fashion plate and wear heavy underwear and thick dresses. Fashion, with beautiful disregard to the changing seasons, demands gauzy stockings, low shoes, décolleté gowns and short sleeves. The result is too often pneumonia or an exhaustion of vitality and nerve force in the effort to keep warm.

Cat's Advantage.

The following composition was written by a ten-year-old nephew of Josh Bunnings, when the teacher gave him "Dogs and Cats" for a subject. "Dogs and cats always sit each other when they kit a chance; but a dog ain't no match for a cat, because a cat kin make her tail bigger a ball club and run up a tree while a dogs gittin' riddy."

THEIR APPETITES WITH THEM

2½ Pounds of Meat and 12 Quarts of Strong Drink Per Capita is French Record.

Frenchmen are pretty able trenchermen, but the following account of a meal made by eight Norman peasants surpasses expectations. According to the Medical Journal, a grazer with seven of his friends undertook an expedition to gather fags.

Among them they should have managed some 460 fagots, but 37 represented the sum of their work, the small total being accounted for, possibly by the luncheon which the octet devoured. They managed to consume 20 pounds of meat, 8 quarts of pure perry, 16 bottles of assorted wines, 9 bottles of champagne and 8 quarts of cider brandy of an alcoholic strength of 55 per cent. A roast goose, placed thoughtfully among the rations, was not required.

This luncheon represents an average of 2½ pounds of meat and 12 quarts of milk, none of it weak, per capita during the 12 hours occupied by the expedition.

The Hand and the Mind.

As dexterity with the hands frequently demands considerable mental effort, so manual training appears to react upon the brain in a stimulative way. This is the conclusion of Prof. Blazey of Austrian, Poland, and Dr. Schuyten of Antwerp, who, at the recent international congress of school hygiene, at Paris, advocated the views based upon experimentation, that manual training has the effect of developing mental qualities of readiness and concentration. Many have noticed the beneficial effect of manual labor upon mental activity, a historic example being that of Gladstone and his tree-chopping—an experience which he shared with Horace Greeley and Abraham Lincoln—Philadelphia Record.

Valuable Scientific Discovery.

A discovery suggesting the possibility of the partial transmutation of precious stones by means of radium has just been made accidentally at the Cornish radium works. One of the chief officials who daily handles the tubes containing the rare element noticed that a diamond in his ring seemed to change color and increase in brilliancy. Since then several experiments have been made. A variety of precious stones have been enclosed in a box with two tubes, each containing 50 milligrams of radium. Every stone changed color after exposure of different duration. Some magnificent tints have been obtained, including a delicate pink in one diamond.

January.

January, the month with the Latin name, had a grimmer name in Saxon England. Richard Verstegan, in his "Restitution of Decayed Intelligence in Antiquities," a curious book published in 1670, writes: "The month which we now call 'January' our Saxon ancestors called 'wolf monat,' to-wit, 'wolf month,' because people are wont always in that month to be in more danger to be devoured of wolves than in any season else of the year; for that, through the extremity of cold and snow, those ravenous creatures could not find other beasts sufficient to feed upon."

British Target Practice.

Although the conditions of target practice have been made more difficult for the gunner, the number of hits has increased in the British navy. The target, towed at an unknown speed, is 30 feet high by 80 feet long, the latter dimension being less than one-fifth the length of a 13-inch battleship. During 1910 the 16 and 13-inch guns averaged 0.7 hits per minute against 0.6 four years ago. The 9.2-inch guns for the whole fleet averaged 2.01 hits; the 7.5-inch gun made 2.61 hits as against 1.58 made by this gun four years ago.

Supremacy of the Soul.

Link soul with all that is worthy, with all that is true, with all that is good, with all that is noble and then when you go out into the world of nature you will be enabled to say, I have walked with God upon the hills and have seen each morn' arise new, bashed in light of Paradise. —L. Powell, Louisville.

The Trimmer's Trick.

I took the trouble to watch a trimmer fill a basket with ordinary potatoes, writes "Tip" in the New York Press. He took an enormous potato too big to sell to any wise buyer. He put this potato on end with crown up in the basket and then he put upon it a kind of trestlework bridge, piling on the fine sized, round baking boys on top. When the customer buys, the potatoes are poured as quickly as a flash into a bag and it is only when the housewife gets home that she finds the giant sized potato nearly filling the basket and she wizens up when she cuts the big, fat boy for boiling. As a rule, the big ones have a great hollow heart and insides as black as a man's hat. Nowadays they are sold in baskets, not in them. They take nice big wads of paper and fill up the basket to the top and then pile in the produce and put on the price.

Here is Real Superstition.

A little book published in Coler in 1665 under the title of "Geistliche und heilliche Artzney wider die Pest," gives a crude explanation of the plague and its ravages. We see that it is due to the eccentric movement of the planets, eclipses of the moon or sun, inundations, earthquakes, famines and wars. Often, all it follows the bad effluvia set upon pigs, ducks and geese. It is frequently attributable to the anger of God for man's sins, such as injustice in the law courts, the oppression of subjects by their rulers, the dearth of goods, the dance and gaming.
