Carolinian Jubilee Singers.

On next Wednesday night the people of Nyssa will have the privilege of hearing the "Original Carolinian Jubilee Singers" at the opera house. This is one of the oldest jubilee companies in existence. It was first organized in 1882 and reorganized in 1891. The musicians now in the company have sung together for 11 consecutive years, a thing almost unheard of in such work. Each member of the company is an artist and a worthy member of society.

This company, headed by Mr. Carter, the organizer, is the highest priced show that ever visited Nyssa. It was out of reach of the regular lyceum course, as experience has shown that $100 is too much to pay for a single number in a town of this size. This company books at $150, but by a special arrangement with the Britt Lyceum Bureau at Boise we are able to put this troupe on here as a benefit to the regular course. Please remember this is not a regular number and season tickets are not good for this entertainment.

This show is entirely separate from the regular course. The course was to contain five numbers. It has already put on four of these and the fifth and best is yet to come on March 17, when the Aller Trio, consisting of Miss Charlotte Bergh, Herr Nelsen and Miss Marie Buhl, will entertain us again.

The admission for this number will be put at the standard price, 50 cents, with no reserved seats. This means first come, first served and that many will have to pay 50 cents for standing room.

Don't forget the date, Wednesday, February 5.

New Mortgage Co. Enters this Field

The Mortgage Company for America, with headquarters at The Hague, Holland, has authorized their agent at Boise, Idaho, to accept applications for loans in Malheur county on farm securities at the rate of eight per cent with liberal options of payment.

Mayor Robert van Gilse will represent the company in this section and if you are looking for a loan on farm property you had better see him, as the agent from Boise, Mr. Schortinghuis, will be in Nyssa on February 7 to pass on all applications submitted.

This is Dutch money and it is due to Mr. van Gilse that these Dutch companies are looking this country up with a view to placing hundreds of thousands of dollars in this section. The fact that this company, after a thorough investigation of this section, is willing to place its money here should strengthen the faith of the faint-hearted, if there be any such, in the value of our farm lands and the future prosperity of the Snake river valley.

Public Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership formerly existing between H. Walters and N. B. Mattheissen and doing business under the firm name of the Owyhee Trading Company at Owyhee, Oregon, was dissolved by mutual consent over one year ago; that all accounts due the said Owyhee Trading company are payable to me; and that I will not be liable for any debts contracted in the name of the said Owyhee Trading company.

Dated at Nyssa, Oregon, this 22d day of January, 1913.

BOREALIS, Jan. 1, 1913.

Miss Ontario.—In answer to yours recently. Yes dear, you are a junction. You are more than that. Trains can pass your domicile; callers can continue even to the capital without changing to the Hill lines or taking to the water. The head of navigation of the rolling, tempestuous Snake, also the terminus of lines of thought, is an honor few can claim. Don't be disheartened, pet! Some few absent ones, impressed with your charming modesty, are preparing to rescue you. Malheur Junction, east of Vale, can be skidded as a last resort, though such destructive means will be a voided if possible.

You're a belt line, a loop, a sub-aerial center, a darling. Watch! wait! little desciple of mine. Help cometh.

KABEYUN,

(The West Wind).

Trees on Waste Ground.

Besides the extensive plans for sowing broadcast the seed of native forest trees on the bare patches of the mountains in Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota, government foresters are taking steps to introduce a number of forest trees which it is expected will add appreciably to the verdure of the mountains and will eventually become an asset in the form of timber. As in the case of human immigrants only those foreigners or "exotics" that will make good citizens are to be encouraged. The species involved are Austrian pine, Corsican pine, Scotch pine, Norway spruce and European larch.

Here is Real Superstition.

A little book published in Cologne in 1665 under the title of "Geistliche und leibliche Arsteney wider die Pest," gives a crude explanation of the plague and its ravages. We learn that it is due to the eccentric movement of the planets, eclipses of the moon or sun, inundations, earthquakes, famines and wars. Often, also, it follows the bad effluvium set up by pigs, ducks and geese. It is frequently attributable to the anger of God for man's sins, such as injustice in the law courts, the oppression of subjects by their rulers, the dearth of goods, the dance and gaming.

The Fisherman.

In but a few weeks more he'll sit
For hours on the bay,
And when he gets back home, admit:
"The big ones got away."

His Profits.

Bacon—This paper says that sugar alone will sustain life for a considerable time.

Egbert—Well, my grocer thinks he can live a good deal better by mixing sand with it.—Yonkers Statesman.

For Cheaper Food.

The Rhode Island conservation commission reports that there are 400 unutilized farms and large areas which have never been cultivated at all, although they are very close to the market. Yet Rhode Island is celebrated as the most "thickly settled" state in the union. The possibilities of this country in the production of food have not begun to be exhausted; the limitations are nowhere in sight, observes the Springfield Republican. All that we need to make cheaper food is more people willing to till the land.
