Whitley Bottom Happenings

Mr. McFall's three children entered school last Tuesday, Feb. 4.

Mr. J. N. Boor has about fifteen little lambs, which are doing fine.

Mrs. and Mr. Clyde Hurd visited in Payette a few days this week.

Sick folks are improving, but several are still absent from school.

Mrs. Inman was able to attend the literary society. We are glad to have her with us.

Spring is on its way, it seems. I understand that Mrs. Stewart has her incubator started.

We are talking telephone in our neighborhood. Here's hoping we talk long and earnestly enough to bring results.

Mr. Holm and wife have rented their farm in this neighborhood to Mr. McFall who took possession the last of January. Mr. Holm moved to Payette.

Our question for debate for February 14 is "Resolved, that women should have the right to vote in the United States." Mrs. McFall leads the affirmative, Mr. Chas. White, the negative.

Literary was well attended last Friday evening and the "Modell" program was quite a feature. The children had charge of the debate and did splendid. We think we have several future orators in our midist.

OWYHEE ITEMS

Frank Newbill was in town Monday.

H. T. Pratt took a load of rye to Oscar Klein last Friday.

Tom Lowe and William Putz are the latest victims of the la grippe.

Jack Glascock took Willie Martin's hulling rig to Vale Saturday.

Freeman Claiborn is putting in a thorough system of drainage on his ranch.

Fred Morgan and A. G. Kingman of the Kolony, were Nyssa visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. J. S. Pinkston, who has been quite ill, is able to be up and has quite recovered.

Allie Hansen took the stage Wednesday afternoon for Nyssa, where she is visiting friends.

H. T. Pratt, J. I. Chuning and H. Walters attended irrigation district meeting at Nyssa Tuesday.

William Putz returned from a pleasuring and business trip to Payette early this week. He brought home a first-class imitation of the grippe as they have it in Payette.

Mr. Stowell, a brother-in-law of John Vanderpool, will work for A. G. Kingman during this coming season. Mr. and Mrs. Stowell will keep house in the new home Mr. Kingman has built for his help.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris left late last week for Portland. where they will engage in business as soon as Mr. Harris finds a suitable location. Mrs. Galarneau, Mrs. Harris' mother, we are informed, will make her home with her son, Eli Galarneau, who lives across the river from Nyssa. Walter Harris and wife will have charge of the estate during the immediate future.

George Dickenson, who is herding sheep for Mr. Walters, came down from camp Sunday and went to Nyssa to see after some of his property there, returning Thursday. During his absence George Toombs ministered to the needs of the betties.

Thomas Lowe, our enterprising and public spirited Owyhee citizen, acting in capacity of District Deputy Hickock, visited the River Bend grange Saturday night. He was accompanied by C. M. Beaumont, master of the Owyhee grange, and by Mr. John Gregory. This committee of substantial citizens met the grangers of the Bend for the purpose of conferring on important grange matters.

Shipping to Pendleton.

A trainload of sheep ready for shipment is at the Nyssa stockyards waiting for cars. They have been purchased by L. Bryant of Pendleton for feeding purposes from Jack McConnell of Nyssa, a former Klondiker who bids fair to become the Eastern Oregon sheep king since retiring from the mining business.

Dairy Cows for Sale.

We will supply you with fine Holsteins from the best herds of the Wisconsin-Illinois dairy corntry — any number, prices reasonable. First shipment arrived February 1. Call on or addrrss Peter Tensen, W. L. Gibson or C. C. Hunt.

Hard Times Dance.

One of the best of the series of dances being given in the opera house was the latest, on the night of the 13th. A good crowd of local dancers attended, with a contingent from the country and nearby towns. A change of musicians was given, being imported for the occasion. A midnight lunch was provided at the O. K. Cafe and extreme satisfaction was experienced with the management by those present.

The next number will be on the 20th inst., a Hard Times dance, with a guarantee of good music and a good time.

Amendments of Chartsr.

At a special meeting of the city council Wednesday preparation was made for holding the annual election. the judges and clerks being appointed and a polling place fixed.

Several amendments to the city charter were ordered drafted for presentation to the voters covering the needed changes to allow of voting bonds for the new city waterworks.

The financial report of the treasurer for the past year was ordered published and is contained in this issue of the Journal.

City finances are in a flourishing condition and the low tax levy made for 1913 will be sufficient for all needs. Bonds not to exceed $20,000 will be provided, any balance remaining in the fund to be carried into the treasury.

Pleasant Visit Paid.

An old friend, Rudolph A. Kuner, breezed into town this week from sunny California. bringing with him all the old-time breeziness we have such a distinct remembrance of belonging to R. A. five years ago. Changes in Nyssa were apparent to him, especially in the buildings, which five years growth has quadrupled. Only a few remained in Nyssa of the acquaintances of the past, but those here were unfeignedly glad to see him. To his old friends on the Owyhee he wished to convey greeting and an appreciation of the good times he enjoyed while visiting there. with especial emphasis on the Old Maids' entertainment some years past. R. A. has hobnobbed with governors, representatives, British aristocracy in the person of Sir Thomes Lipton, and presidents since his last sojourn with us and distinctly stated that he enjoyed life yet.

Mr. Kuner's property here has advanced in value and is returning a nice income at present, thus helping to keep Eastern Oregon firmly fixed in his memory as the best section of these United States.
