KINGMAN KOLONY COMING TO FRONT

The staff correspondent of the Capital News, who was in Nyssa and vicinity recently, writes his paper regarding one of Nyssa's rapidly developing rural districts.

The cultivated land in the Kingman Kolony, eight miles southwest of Nyssa, escaped the recent frosts and rains without injury to the growing crops. Not even the beans or sweet potato vines were hurt, nor the corn. Neither was the hay damaged.

The Kingman Kolony comprises 2500 acres of very rich and fertile land. That it is well situated is seen from the fact that the growing crops there are practically immune from frost damage. This project gets its water for irrigation from the Snake river through a pumping system. There is an abundance of water for every acre for the full irrigation season each year.

A. E. Wade, one of the prominent farmers of Kingman Kolony, stated that between 60 and 80 per cent of the land is now in cultivation and that the crops are in fine condition, and that the crops escaped all damage from the recent cold and wet spell. He said the farmers there are growing more corn and alfalfa and are raising more and more livestock. He said at least four cars of hogs will be shipped from the Kolony next fall. Farmers in the Kolony have gone into the growing of beans on a larger scale than formerly, there now being 125 acres in beans here.

SHARP IMPROVES POPULAR RESORT

Harry Sharp, the popular proprietor of the Brunswick cigar store and billiard parlor, is making a number of changes in his establishment this week which will greatly improve appearances and give him considerable more room. As the lunch counter has been discontinued, he is taking the fixtures out, also the partition between the cigar store and the billiard room in the rear. He is moving the show cases and counters to the opposite side of the store, thus providing a straight passage from the entrance to the billiard department.

May Develop Snake River

That the people are overlooking a great development project along Snake river is the opinion of State Engineer John H. Lewis, who recently made an inspection of the district between Oregon and Idaho, says an exchange.

Accompanied by Leonard Lungen, district engineer of the United States forest service, and R. W. Williams, representing the United States engineering department, an elevation of 800 feet above the town of Lewiston was reached by the gasoline boat Prospector in a distance of 120 miles.

It is this enormous fall in the river through a narrow, rock walled canyon bordered with extensive forest, mineral and other resources, which gives hope that in the future cheap slack water barge transportation may be had from the upper Snake river valley to tide-water at Portland.

WITH OUR NEIGHBORS

To separate at Nashville, Tenn., where both received their honorable discharge from the army at the same time, and to meet again for the first time in Weiser nearly half a century later, was the extreme joy experienced by two veterans who attended the grand army convention at Weiser Friday. J. B. Wentley of Horseshoe Bend and Samuel Gardner of Weiser were members of company I, Seventy-eighth Pennsylvania infantry. Both enlisted at Pittsburg and served until the close of the war, when they were mustered out at Nashville. Both were born in 1849 and were not quite 16 years old when they enlisted.

J. M. Thompson of Caldwell, attorney for the Black Canyon irrigation project, J. W. Brandt of Nampa, president of the Boise-Payette Water Users' association, and Joel L. Priest, industrial agent for the Oregon Short Line Railway Co., are in Washington to lay before the department of the interior conditions existing in the Black Canyon project, which will undoubtedly move the department to action in going ahead with the project.—Middleton Herald.

Sixty-nine years lacks but one year of the allotted span of life, and it is not often that a couple is heard as celebrating the sixtieth anniversary of their wedding day. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. West, of Caldwell, received the congratulations of a host of friends on this event on Wednesday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. A. E. Gipson. This remarkable couple are both in their ninth year. Both are hale and hearty.

Federal Inspector Leon Bone arrived in Weiser Wednesday from Portland to investigate the charges under the Mann act for white slavery made by local authorities against Jerome Graham. Graham took Martha Orcutt from Idaho to Oregon for alleged immoral purposes. Mr. Bone did not divulge his opinion of the case.

The Ontario Democrat reports a successful wool clip for Malheur county. The M. M. Co.'s warehouse was the scene of a sale on the 9th when 300,000 pounds were offered, prices running 16c to 47c. One hundred and fifty thousand sheep were sheared at Juntura at one plant—the Prahls.

A careful review of the county shows there are over 2000 acres planted to corn this season and many of the growers have entered for the prizes to be given this fall, through the generosity of the commercial club.—Ontario Argus.

Developing Shoestring Land

George Green and his crew of stalwart alfalfa jugglers started cutting the Land company's big 300-acre crop under the Shoestring Tuesday. The land is but the second year from the sagebrush and is producing prodigiously. It is announced that next fall the Land company will reclaim about 500 acres more of their holdings under the Shoestring.
