An Ohio factory makes 350,000,000 bungs, which suggests that there is a big dam spot still left somewhere.

Small boys would do well to bear in mind that Gen. Villa is a great man, not because he was a bandit but in spite of the fact.

Probably if Uncle Sam would prohibit the importation of American whisky into Mexico Huerta would hasten to resign.

Every time one of Bryan's Ideas shows signs of working out successfully his enemies begin to hate him worse than ever.

In the light of recent investigations fewer persons are protesting against "meddlesome legislation" and "attacks on business."

With the world to choose from, Tom Lawson, of "Frenzied Finance" fame, has selected Oregon as the home of his children. And Tom hasn't seen Malheur county yet, either.

The interest being taken in Nyssa's coming celebration by our neighbors at Ontario is a matter of much favorable comment and a source of gratification at Nyssa. From reports, the morning of the Fourth will see Ontario here with bells. Nyssa will be ready with the glad hand.

"There is no excuse for idleness in the big cities now," chuckles an Eastern writer, who some way escaped the foolkiller," the West is yelling loud for harvest hands at good wages." The cheerful idiot neglected to tell the unemployed of the East how they are to get to the West, or how much they would profit by a brief job in the harvest fields after having paid their fares, granting that they had the money to do so. Besides harvesting in the Snake valley is a strong man's job, and the average city roustabout would scarcely last till dinner time.

Business Talks With Business Men

EVERY season brings some special needs. Practically every merchant who is at all successful knows well the needs in his lines for every occasion, and buys his stock accordingly. Yet all do not pay the same close attention to keeping the public informed regarding the seasonable goods on hand. This is just as important as having the goods. Each passing week brings an imperceptible change that offers an opportunity to the merchant to jog the public memory that he can supply them with just what they require. This is the sort of advertising that pays. It means extra work for the newspaper to change the advertisements weekly, but the newspaper with the same interest for its patrons at heart that it advocates others to have for it, is willing to give the extra time so that the returns for service rendered may be greater. Advertising is a specialized form of salesmanship, and should receive the same careful attention as that given to possible customers who enter the store.

ANOTHER IMPROVEMENT

Contractor McGee started building a tower, Tuesday, for the new new firebell, recently purchased by the city. At present it will be located in the vacant lot on First street, near the Malheur County bank building. The tower will be a portable one, so the location may be easily changed in case it may be deemed advisable.
