Special Inducements to Patrons in Order to Prove That Home Trade is Best and Cheapest.

entire world. The Owyhee Mercantile Company specializes in Digester Tankage for hogs, and Blatchford's calf meal for the calves. Note the special reduced price he is making on these staple articles to help the home people during Home Trade week. Also other seasonable articles for the household are included. All for the home folks during Home Trade Week.

Bank of Nyssa.

The Bank of Nyssa was established for the purpose of accommodating the people in and around Nyssa with their financial transactions, and is a big convenience to the farmers as well as town people. In fact, it is the ranchers' business that makes such an institution possible here. The stockholders and directors are all local people, Mr. A. G. Kingman of Kingman Colony being the president. The cashier, Mr. Frank G. Hall, invites visitors in town during Home Trade Week to make the bank headquarters whether you have business to transact or not. They want you to get better acquainted with them.

Blacksmith Shop.

What would the farmer do without a blacksmith? He would be up against it right. Luckily Nyssa is well provided in that line with two competent workmen who thoroughly understand their business. Leuck & Cook. They have nothing to sell during Home Trade Week excepting their services, but they remind all ranchers that plowing is soon to start and suggest that you bring in your plows and have them fixed up so they will be in good repair when needed. It is best to be forehanded in a case of that kind, as it will save lots of trouble.

Spier's Store.

Louis Spier carries an exclusive line of men's clothing, both for dress and working purposes. This includes the young men and boys as well. He carries staple lines that give satisfaction and sells at prices that have suited the people and he believes will continue to suit. Everything men wear, from shoes to hats, underclothes and outer clothes, he carries in stock. For Home Trade Week Mr. Spier has some good offerings in seasonable needs in men's clothes. He always has the best goods at the best prices, but on this occasion he is doing a little better than the ordinary. Note the fall clothing that will soon be on sale at this store. The famous Hart, Shaffner & Marx clothes that have stood the test of years and always seem a little better each season. The low tariff on wool will reduce the retail price this fall and Nyssa people will be among the first to receive the benefit, through Mr. Spier.

Empire Lumber Co.

Lumber is one of the important commodities of a growing country, therefore the Empire Lumber Co., under the able management of our Honorable Mayor, Mr. H.

T. Francis, is a big factor in the advancement of the country. Many new homes have been built this summer at Owyhee, and especially the Kingman Colony, also at the Kolony a new school. That the material for these buildings has all been supplied by Mr. Francis shows the appreciation felt for such convenience provided by the home town. For Home Trade week they will keep open house and visitors will be made welcome. As a suggestion, those who are contemplating improvements in the near future will do well to bring their estimates along and let Mr. Francis go over them with you.

Foster's Drug Store.

In times of sickness how grateful we are when the doctor is nigh. This also applies to the druggist who fills the prescriptions that relieve our aches and pains. Foster's Drug Store in the home town fills a wide field. It is more than a place where we may buy our plasters and physics. It is also a place of entertainment, where in the evenings young and old gather to exchange the news of the day while ice cream, soda water and other pleasant refreshments are served, while a gramophone industriously plays the latest musical and song hits of the day. When the country folks arrive from distant points over the dry, hot dusty roads, Fosters, with its humming electric fan, its ice cold drinks, and lively music, will be sought as a welcome refuge, and all will be given a royal greeting when they come during Home Trade Week. Special musical programs will be rendered every day.

Caldwell's Store.

T. J. Caldwell carries a large and unusually complete line of drygoods and ladies ready to wear clothes, hats, etc. His stock is more extensive than will usually be found in such stores in towns the size of Nyssa. Home people are beginning to learn that Mr. Caldwell prices his goods more reasonably than stores of like nature in the more remote towns, and that goods can be purchased from him of better quality, and easier terms than the most elaborately advertised eastern mail order houses. Patterns and styles are in keeping with the present day ideas, eliminating the necessity of going elsewhere to suit particular tastes. For Home Trade Week he will offer attractive bargains in the seasonable goods that will make shopping in this big store both pleasant and profitable.

Wilson Bros.

A big grocery store is that of Wilson Bros., one that would do credit to a much larger city than Nyssa. They carry the best line of groceries that can be bought in the west. With an ample number of clerks to attend to the custom they will see that the wants of every one are cared for during Home Trade week. As this is the fruit preserving season, Wilson Bros are advertising jars and cans, and are prepared to supply the demand.

Nyssa Hardware.

Being pioneers in business in Nyssa, Mr. S. D. Goshert and Mr. Shaw are well acquainted with the hardware needs of the country. They feel that the people residing in this section are their friends, and have built up their trade on its merits. During Home Trade week they want their customers and friends to visit them and in a hardware store their headquarters.

J. Boydell.

Justice J. Boydell is well and favorably known to nearly all the people residing in this part of Malheur county. He has been active in business and public affairs for many years. It will please his many friends to learn he has added materially to his operations by purchasing the Lee Blodgett insurance interests. By reading the big ad in the paper this week you will learn the various lines being handled by him. Mr. Boydell has recently moved his office to the opera house block.

Robertson Livery.

Probably no business concern in town is so closely associated with the farmer as the livery stable. Everyone about here knows J. M. Robertson and his famous stallion Bubnell. When you drive in for Home Trade week Mr. Robertson has made special arrangements to care for the horses and rigs.

Hotel Western.

Since Mr. and Mrs. Bitner took charge of this hotel the service has steadily improved, while the prices have never been increased. It is the object of the management to treat guests so satisfactorily that they will always be anxious to return. There is very little profit in serving a 25-cent meal as good as the one set at the Hotel Western.

Boydell's Confectionery.

This hot weather causes everyone to seek the coolest places and indulge in such refreshments as are most fitting to make them forget the burning sun. The refreshment parlor kept by Miss Bessie Boydell is the proper place to obtain those delicious summer thirst quenchers so enjoyed by young and old. Ice cream in all varied forms, garnished with innumerable fruit and other flavoring, will be served the Home Trade week shoppers. Miss Boydell's announcement this week tells the story exactly. Be sure to read it.

Nyssa Meat Market.

The stock used for meat in this market is gathered from the surrounding country, and therefore is strictly a home industry, meaning a source of revenue to the farmers. It is acknowledged by the best judges that animals fed on the corn, alfalfa and grain grown in the Nyssa country have the best flavored meat found anywhere.

Malheur County Bank.

Strength and service are the two features emphasized by the management of the Malheur County Bank. Cashier Wolf wants the people to understand this policy is strictly adhered to, thus making the institution one of the safest depositories in the country.

The Perfect Husband.

My perfect husband, among a great many other qualities, must love like a Frenchman, attend to business like an American and dress like an Englishman. I have come back from America with a great admiration for the American man's devotion to business. If one were permitted to have three husbands he should certainly be one of them. This is how I would divide their labor: The Frenchman should be for the home, the Englishman for the street and the American for the office.—Polaire in London Chronicle.

Smart Steel Trap.

Fig—"Wonder why people say 'as smart as a steel trap'?" I never could see anything particularly intelligent in a steel trap." Fogg—"A steel trap is called smart because it knows exactly the right time to shut up."—Boston Transcript.

Orchid Species Multiply.

A century ago only 300 species of orchids were known, and those very imperfectly. Now the latest authority gives the number of known species at 10,000.

Sapleigh the Desperado.

Kibby (at the party)—"Mr. Sapleigh has been hugging the wall all the evening. He's not exactly a wall flower, what would you call him?" Marie—"A wall 'nut'."

Concurring.

He—"As I was saying, Miss Maymie, when I start out to do a thing I stay on the job. I'm no quitter." She (with a weary yawn)—"Don't I know it!"
