Pendleton Round-Up Better Than Ever

Pendleton, Or., July 18.—With conditions practically insuring an attendance in excess of the great crowds of 1912 and 1913 when 75,000 people witnessed the exhibition, the board of directors has dated the Seventh Annual Round-Up for September 21, 22 and 23, and made preparation for increased seating capacity in the bleachers and the greatest exhibition ever staged. The railroads have increased the territory included in the Round-Up special rates so that this year they will extend as far east as Salt Lake on the Union Pacific; Missoula, Mont., on the Northern Pacific and south to San Francisco and north to British Columbia.

The fact that the Round-Up is the biggest and practically the only attraction of national interest on the Pacific Coast this fall has caused the eastern and transcontinental lines to advertise it extensively and use it extensively as the basis for western tourist business. This will bring many additional thousands to the annual frontier show.

The show itself will be superior to anything heretofore staged. More and better bucking horses than ever will be up for the riders, the relay horses will have not less than ten strings of four horses each and there will be more competitors from all over the West in the steer roping and bulldogging.

More than a thousand applications for ticket reservations have been received which is the biggest number ever received at this season for any of the former Round-Ups. Many noted people of national fame contemplate being present, of which Secretary of Treasurer McAdoo has already assured the Round-Up that he will be present.

Opposition to Borah Amendment

Washington — Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the house appropriations committee, Friday served notice he will fight Senator Borah's amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill appropriating $10,000 to make an investigation and survey of the Black Canyon project with a view to its completion by the government.

Lost Three Fingers.

Alfred Burcham lost three fingers in a buzz saw at his planing mill last Friday afternoon. While finishing some beekeepers' supplies and engaged in the monotonous work of feeding some small boards into a circular saw he dozed off and his hand came into contact with the vicious little wheel. The index, second and third fingers were so badly mangled that amputation was necessary between the first and second joints.—Ontario Democrat.

Bond Buyer Here.

L. B. Wickersham, of Portland, representing one of the big bond buying firms, was here this week looking up the bonds to be issued for the construction of the Warm Springs reservoir and irrigation system. Apparently there is not going to be any trouble in selling these bonds when the work of organizing the district has been completed and the bonds placed on sale.—Ontario Argus.

Closing Out Sale.

As we are going out of business on or before August 1st, we will dispose of our entire stock of stationery, candy, cigars, tobaccos, grape juice and store fixtures at first cost. Now is the time to lay in a supply. Call and get prices which will astonish you. NYSSA CONFECTIONERY.

Cyclone Visits the Weiser Neighborhood

For the first time in the history of the county so far as the oldest residents are able to state, a cyclone visited the Weiser valley yesterday afternoon. True it was a miniature affair, but it was real nevertheless. The twister was seen approaching the W. D. Patch ranch southwest of this city about 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon coming out of the bank of black clouds farther west. When it reached the ranch it tore through the cow barn and silo and left a wreck of the buildings.

Beyond the house a short distance Mr. Johnson was standing with his back against a large tree and the wind took this tree and Mr. Johnson with it into the air for several feet. The tree was carried away, roots and all, for a considerable distance, but for some reason Mr. Johnson was carefully let back to the ground without the slightest injury having been done him.

The house was missed entirely and the haystacks were not even ruffled on the top. Where the cyclone originated and where it spent itself remains a mystery, but it is thought that currents of hot and cold air caused the disturbance.

It was extremely fortunate that not a single animal was injured. The cow barn was empty and the cattle were some distance away in a neighboring field. The damage is estimated at not less than $1000.—Weiser Signal.

Desense Gets Decision.

The demurrers of James Lusk and John McDevitt, the Boise men charged with possessing and transporting intoxicating liquor in prohibition territory were sustained by Judge Bryan and the prosecuting attorney of Canyon county ordered to file a new information. The new information was filed Wednesday. The men have been ordered to appear and enter their plea to the charge Friday morning at 10 a. m.

It will be remembered that the two men were arrested by Sheriff Froman on June 8 about 200 yards from the Nampa ferry in Canyon county for having in their possession five cases containing twelve quart bottles of whiskey each. They were said to have been on their way to Boise from Jordan Valley.—Caldwell News.

Clerf Ranch a Wonder.

Frank Glenn returned Monday from a trip to the interior of the county. Mr. Glenn reports the southern portion of the county in excellent condition. The part visited was the Alvord ranch, owned by Frank Clerf.

"This ranch is a wonder," said Mr. Glenn. "Mr. Clerf will put up over 3000 tons of hay and has more grain growing on that ranch than the whole Malheur valley. Streams are running through the place direct from Stein's mountain, carrying sufficient water to irrigate the 16,000 acres lying directly under the mountain. It is as fine a ranch as a man could want and I doubt if it is equalled in Oregon.—Vale Enterprise.

Dry Land Rye at Juntura.

Smith Wilson came in Saturday to get a load of wire for T. C. Jones, a neighbor. Mr. Wilson is very optimistic about crops this year and says that when a man thinks you cannot grow grain on dry land in this country he is mistaken. While he admits the frost injured his garden this year, he also states that he has rye five feet high and so thick you cannot walk through it.—Juntura Times.

Life of the Soldier Boy

Mexico to guard Pershing's line of supplies. Then the militia will move in their tracks. The regulars are right on the border. We are 1200 yards. We are being put through the paces right. We get up at 5:10, go through our physical drill and manual of arms and roll call, then breakfast. After breakfast make our bed, clean up the company street and get ready for inspection, and believe me, it is a thorough inspection, from your spoons to blanket. Then all the rest of the day we drill. We have one hour for noon eat. At 6 and after supper we have a formal grand mount, the band plays Star Spangled Banner and we stand at attention; then our day is done.

You ought to have seen our camp site before we started. We are right on a hill and it is a gravel pile. Inside of fifteen minutes the whole hill was over the valley. Twelve hundred men can move a whole lot of rocks in a quarter of an hour. They have all the greasewood banked up with rocks so they look like palm trees. We have our pipe line and bath houses and all. We have an eighteen-mile hike every week, with heavy marching order, 62 pounds in all. Everything is strict. All military rules are enforced to the T. The guards have shells and nothing goes. Well, I guess we'll have to quit. Tell all the people hello.

Moore Hotel in Financial Trouble

The Moore Hotel Company, which has operated the Moore hotel for the last year, is in difficulties, and change of ownership is due in the near future. T. H. Moore, builder of the hotel, will regain possession, under an execution in foreclosure obtained today in circuit court, Judge Biggs hearing the arguments of attorneys in chambers yesterday.

Though the affairs of the company have been in a complicated tangle, according to common report, since early last fall, and though they are now so involved that nobody seems able to explain just who is where, it is understood that Mr. Moore, who held first mortgage on part and second mortgage on part of the property all this time, will again come into ownership of the hotel next month as sheriff's sale. Mr. Moore operated the hotel from the time it was built until he sold to W. U. Sanderson in 1913.—Ontario Democrat.

Crane Will Have Newspaper.

Ontario.—P. J. Gallagher, the well known attorney of Ontario, announces that he will establish a new weekly newspaper at Crane, the new terminus of the Oregon & Eastern extension 111 miles southwest of Ontario. This publication is to be known as the Crane American. The first paper is to be published about the first of August.

George E. Carter, a well known newspaper man, is to be in charge of the Crane American as editor and manager. Mr. Gallagher will continue his law practice in Ontario.
