This is no time for partisanship in municipal, state or national affairs. The time for divided allegiance is past and the citizen, whether he be native or foreign-born, who is not loyal to the government is a traitor and an enemy of the Republic.

The momentous decision for war by the American congress brings the nation face to face with the gravest situation it has confronted since the war between the states. That it will be no parlor war but will call for all the strength and manhood of the nation is realized, but there could be no other answer to the Prussian war lord if America is to keep her place among the nations of the earth. Whether we were formerly pro-ally or pro-German, we are now at war with Germany, and, to paraphrase a famous quotation, "America expects every man to do his duty."

The consumption of food can be diminished considerably before the American people will be really underfed.

The demand for garden products promises to make the man with the hoe an object of envy.

The American citizen of German ancestry is in a position somewhat resembling that of a man who finds that the wife of his choice does not get on well with his mother. The sacrifice of filial affection is painful, but the course of duty in such a situation is clear.

There were no slackers among the Nyssa boys of the National Guard. All joined the colors with a cheerfulness that denoted that they are composed of the stuff from which American heroes are made.
