CROP SITUATION ABROAD.

While Americans have been taken up with their own efforts to increase the supply of food for the world and are making a great headway in that direction, it will encourage them to know that those to whom we have devoted our surplus are doing their utmost to help themselves, says Omaha Bee. Particularly is this true of the United Kingdom, where agriculture is being carried on at the highest pitch ever attained. In England the acreage sown to winter wheat is 56 per cent greater than two years ago, while the prospect for the crop is better than in many years. Other plantings are equally good in prospect. Scotland returns a similar report, the spring sowing there exceeding former years, both in extent and condition. Weather conditions have been especially favorable for farm work of all kinds. Ireland is not reported on in detail, but the disturbances over there have had the singular effect of stimulating agricultural effort and more land is being tilled than was used last year. France will have a better wheat yield, according to the present outlook, although the sown acreage is still smaller because of the scarcity of help. Italy has not neglected planting, but suffers, as does France, by reason of shortage of farm labor.

The Germans have been working at their present unsuccessful attempt to break through the allied line longer than they were engaged in the whole campaign against Austria in the summer of 1908. In the days of Bismarck and von Moltke they never started anything that they were not able to put through, says Milwaukee Wisconsin. Bismarck and von Moltke are dead. The present war was precipitated under other auspices. Wasn't it Pope Leo who dubbed the present emperor of Germany "the Young Man in a Hurry." He has been in a great hurry since he began operations on the West front at the end of July, 1914, but he has not yet reached Paris—and he won't.

Shipworkers are willing to work a while longer provided they are guaranteed wages of $10.50 a day. Such wages seem outrageous but even at that the ships that the nation needs are cheap at the price. We refused to build ships in the days before the war, when they could be built for a song and now we must pay through the nose for them, says The Pathfinder. Wages of all skilled artisans are unduly high now because our schools have been turning out too many literary scholars and not enough trained mechanics.

The various war funds are meeting with a generous and ready response. The calls, both public and private, are many, but the spirit of the people is aroused, and none of these calls is being neglected, to judge by the substantial results. And while various associations and denominations work among themselves, the grand total is freely given to the pressing needs of the nation, the individual work thus meeting in a harmonious whole.

Slackers who leave the country to evade military service are notified by Attorney General Gregory that they will be "prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law" after peace comes. One part of their punishment might fittingly be to make their voluntary expatriation compulsory and permanent. Keeping a slacker American out of America will be a good deal of a penalty in itself when the war is over.

WRECKED HOUSE HIDES BIG FRENCH GUN

From the ruins of one of their own shell smashed homes, the French hourly train the guns that scatter death in billets and columns of marching troops behind the Hun lines. Fourth Liberty Bonds are the best insurance that American homes will not thus suffer.

"We were shelled without warning at 1 o'clock in the morning in our rest billets, and three of my lieutenants were killed instantly in the inky darkness." This is the simple letter of a captain on the battle line in France. Do you count the dollars of your Fourth Liberty Loan subscription when every retaliatory shell from a 155 millimeter howitzer costs nearly $100?

"Our battalion went into action 1400 strong; 270 men came back," writes a soldier from France. This seems a terrible sacrifice, but—

"Americans have never retreated an inch on French soil," says Reuter's correspondent at Paris, according to news dispatches. No wonder the Hun is backing up.

Do your part in the Fourth Liberty Loan to let our immortal fighting men know you are backing them up.

Down With Your Hundreds and Down With the Huns.

In Flanders Fields the Poppies Bloom—But if we are going to back up our fighting men by putting over the Fourth Liberty Loan with an oversubscription we will have no time to pause and worship those poppies, nor to admire the poppies in our own fields.

Five Million Men in France—And it takes $197.50 to feed one army company one day.—Do your part towards feeding them by buying Fourth Liberty Bonds.

Five Million Men in France—And it takes $91.63 to provide clothes and blankets for one man.—How many will you clothe through the Fourth Liberty Loan?

A shell dropped in the German lines leaves that many less Huns for our men to put out of action in hand to hand fighting. How many shells will your Fourth Liberty Loan start on their way to France from our munition factories?
