Turkey is likely to become the world's horrible example of the results of bad guessing.

There are fifty two varieties of weekly services that we may perform annually in the cause of democracy.

The German Gott may still be with the Kaiser but it must make him do considerable humping to keep up.

Until socialism is absolved from its stain of Germanism it would better remember its manners in this country.

Wilhelm will not be in a tower when peace negotiations are signed, but he will be in one shortly thereafter, and for keeps.

The Germans are said to have six routes of retreat—each one owing to allied artillery fire, a little more difficult than the other.

The burning of villages may be accepted as an indication that the Hun entertains no expectations of being back that way again.

The people of Germany have about lost hope that Crown Prince Willie will throw away his powder puff and put on a gas mask.

A few of the faithful will be apt to reverse General Sherman's verdict when they hear that the Y. M. C. A. is about to take over Monte Carlo.

None of the Hohenzollern family is listed among the 4 million Huns who have died in the war. All they stand to lose is their jobs and heads.

Another gold esp given by the Kaiser has been assayed and turned out pewter. The Kaiser is also being put through the crucible, and it looks from here as if he will turn out all brass.

The I. W. W. and the Bolsheviks have both decided that the individual tooth brush is the emblem of the capitalistic class. Also that books and bath tubs are the skulking enemies of the real brotherhood of man.

If there is anything in that story that the Sultan has "broke" with the Kaiser, we suggest that, after the war, we sentence our most notorious prisoner to Turkey, with an intimation that it would be nice to see relations severed between his head and shoulders.

"Why not have milkmaids new a days?" someone asks. There is a cry that the labor conditions are in a bad way as far as the dairies are concerned. The men have gone to war or into other work and the cows are being killed off because there is no one to milk them. "What is going to become of the children of this country if that goes on?" is the question asked. Some of the girls who are not exactly fascinated by the thought of washing windows, running elevators and carrying mail are looking toward the dairies. They won't wear the costumes seen in light opera but they'll be quite sensible in heavy boots and coveralls and they'll save the day. Here's to the milkmaid of modern days.

BABIES MUST HAVE MILK

"You get more calories to the penny from milk than from any other food even at the present price," said Dr. E. J. Labbe, specialist, who returned recently from Europe and who spoke at the State Fair and at other patriotic gatherings. Dr. Labbe told of the children he treated in the Red Cross children's hospital in Evian, on Lake Geneva, in France. The little French and Belgian refugees were wan and weak and almost lifeless. A milk diet soon brought good results and the babies thrived. "But," said Dr. Labbe, "they will never entirely shake off the marks made by the months in which they were starved for milk. Children must have milk if the race is to go on. It is every man's and every woman's duty to do all in his power to keep the herds of Oregon alive. Feed men, mill men, dairymen, householders, dealers, everyone must co-operate. The babies of the world must be saved."

Milk may be used not only as an addition to an already rich diet, but in place of some of the slowly digested dishes which over tax the digestive organs and impair the health. Milk contains all the elements necessary to sustain life and build up the body. It must be remembered too, that butter is a food for all, for rich and poor, for old and young. Cottage cheese is another dairy product that is of great food value.

Protection
from every form of loss

from a burned block
to a lost package

Are you prepared for the worst?

FIRE comes first as causing the greatest losses, but is first for that reason alone. Some other form of fatality might be far worse for you than a fire. Do not learn these things after they happen. Whatever your circumstances, occupation or possessions, you are vulnerable to the blind god Chance. The Hartford Fire Insurance Company outwits chance, because it covers all sides. Its policies surround you with an interlocking coat of mail made up of Hartford policies, leaving no unprotected point.

Would it not give you greater peace of mind to have this complete protection? The

Insurance Service

of the Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

offers it through this agency.
