SUPPORT APPRECIATED.

There are many ways in which one can show his appreciation for a kindness bestowed upon him It has been about a month that I have held the management of the Journal. Each day I have passed np and down the streets of this little city unmolested. I have been treated very kindly; both by the business men and the public.

People are very good about giving in the happenings of the Week. So it is through the columns of the Gate City Journal that I wish to thank you, each and every one of you for the good treatment of the past month, and I assure you I will do all I can to please you by improving the paper each week as much as I can; and work to the best interest of Nyssa and Malheur County.

If you have any news that would be of interest to any one else— I would be more than please to place it in the columns of The Journal—by so doing we can make The Journal the more intersting to personal freinds.

The Journal is a weekly newspaper, published for the people of Nyssa and surrounding Community; it stands ready to serve its people at all times. But to serve the people it must have the loyal support of the people for whlch it searves.

DON'T TAKE CHANCES

Too mnch cannot be said about the danger of fire as the dry season approaches. Last year Western forests suffered millions of dollars loss from fire ravages. Hundreds and thousands of acres of grain fields were destroyed not to mention millions of dollars worth of residences and business property. One of the principle dangers to field and forest used to be throwing cigaretts or cigars stubs from train windows into the dry grass. There is now a greater danger in the thousands of automobiles passing along the highway from which person flips a cigarette or cigar Also camp fires left by persons not familiar with outdoor life. Be careful, put out fires, see that no waste is left around your premises, cut the dry grass next to buildings, clean up the oily rags around your garage and DON'T TAKE CHANCES.

BUILD NOW

Wages are paid for the creating of wealth, Wages are labor's share of the wealh it HAS produced, rather than a mortgage on wealth that it WILL produce. Wealh depends upon construction; and in the building field not only does the individual add to his personal wealth, but he adds to the assets of the Nation.

The United States now has more wealh than any other two nations combined. Every house built, every road constructed, every pudlid building and improvement, is adding to that great accumulation of permanent wealth, making the Nation stronger and stronger.

A general, country-wide campaign of building, assuming reasonable intelligence is exercised, would do more than any other one thing to increase the permanent wealth of the Nation and the individual. While its permanent wealth is piling up— especially when it is in the nature of homes owned by individuals—a nation may have its perplexing problems, but there is nothing serious or dangerous in its industrial status.

The perment wealth of the country is represented in homes, buildings, prvate and public construction work—is the Nation'sreserve fund. As long as the reserve fund is growing the Nation is a Going Concern and in sound condition.

If you would add to your peronal wealth and make the Nation sounder and stronger—BUILD NOW.

Out-steps Its Fellows

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Ore,—"This survey blank designed to bring agricultural teaching in line to fit all students for country life, was evidently not designed for Oregon's state college" confided D. J. Crosby, expert of the federal bureau of education, to Dean A. B. Cordley. "You have already reached the objectives sought by the associated institutions of Amercia."

Dr. Crosby is investigating the work of the weastern agricultural colleges to unify their aims, not only fit studenta to live in the country but to work at farming or other lines of agriculture Other desirable objectives now in practic here follow:

Two years in basic agriculture for all new students, which helps them to become better farmers if they quit at the end of one or two years, and enables them to select their major work if they finish their course.

Training in skilled general farming.

Training for specialized farming—crops, livesiock dairy, fruit, ect

Dr. Crosby, Dean Cordley, the teaching and station staffs, and every graduate student and senior of the '19 class, approved training in farm journalism.

Prospective Bridegrooms, Attention!

MARRIAGE AND THE HOME

We believe in the institution called marriage. We believe no man has reached the fullness of life until he has a household of his own. We believe man should take unto himself a wife.

Human tradition and human law require that, having done so, he shall furnish her with food and shelter. So far as shelter is concerned, to rent a room, or a few rooms, or a house somewhere, fulfull the letter of that tradition and law. We doubt very much that it fulfills the spirit of them.

We believe that a women may properly demand that the shelter that is furnished her by her husband shall be theirs in fact as well as in name. We believe that, if we were a woman, we would demand it. We may be making trouble for some prospective bridegroom in this town, but nevertheless we suggest to the bride-to-be that his ability or desire to furnish her with a home is a pretty good test of his character and effection.

We do not mean that no man should marry until he has the mean with which to build But he should not marry until he has the means to begin building or to begin buying.

Having started to build or to buy, it means years, perhaps, of self-denial. It means goihg without this and doing without that. But, too, it means more than that. It means a bond of common sacrifice that will unite man and wife closer than could the enjoyment of any luxury.

So, we say to woman, marry the man who is willing to give you a real home according to his means. And, we say to the man, marry a woman who DEMANDS it. It is that kind of a marriage that is likely to result happily.
