The Anti-Compulsory Vaccination league has been formed at The Dalles. A new 100 room hotel is projected at The Dalles if sufficient inducement is assured by local capital.

All wooden bridges in the city of Salem are to be painted white in furtherance of the civic pride movement.

The convention of the Eastern Oregon Christian Endeavor society was held in the Christian church at Pendleton.

Senator McNary has introduced a bill in the senate to throw open the Klamath Indian reservation to settlement.

Roseburg will vote in May on a proposition to issue between $300,000 and $500,000 bonds for a municipal light plant.

Mrs. Margaret Monteith, who has resided in Albany continuously for 68 years, has celebrated her ninety-first birthday.

The $6500 deficit of former Sheriff Gellatly of Benton county has been made good to the county by two of his brothers.

The Veterans Lane County council has been organized at Eugene. It will consist of representatives of all patriotic bodies.

The annual convention of the Oregon Retail Merchants association convened in Astoria Monday for a three days' session.

With a large exhibit and attendance, Albany's second annual automobile, truck and tractor show was held Friday and Saturday.

Trustees of the Klamath Falls Presbyterian church have placed an order for a pipe organ to cost $4000 to be installed in August.

N. Michels, recently discharged from the eastern Oregon state hospital, was killed when he threw himself in front of a train near Echo.

Voters of Eugene will ballot in May on a proposal to expend $22,000 for the purchase of an aviation field as a base for the forest patrol.

Clyde Beckett, a native Oregonian and 55 years a resident of Polk county, died at his home in Salem following an attack of influenza.

An adult man cannot adopt another adult man in Oregon, according to a decision of Attorney General Brown, in response to an inquiry.

E. L. Smith of Hood River, an 82-year-old pioneer, is the last survivor of the republican convention of 1850, which nominated Lincoln for president.

Charles H. Haddix, deputy collector of customs at Astoria, was accidentally killed while he was repairing the underpinning of the house at his ranch at Fernhill.

Squirrels have become such a nuisance in the Clatsop section of Clackamas county that the farmers have appointed Albert Cassler to distribute poison gratis.

Anthony Grange of Jackson has adopted resolutions lauding Governor Olcott for vetoing a large number of bills passed at the extra session of the legislature.

A movement has been started in Albany to raise $50,000 for the construction of a community center as a memorial to the returned soldiers of Linn county.

Broccoli in Douglas county is heading up well, but the cold nights are holding it back enough so that the heads will be of large size and of excellent quality.

J. A. Churchill, state superintendent of public instruction, left Salem Saturday for Chicago, to attend the annual convention of the national society for vocational education.

It has been decided at Salem to install warning signals at the railroad crossing at the intersection of Capitol and Union streets where several accidents have recently occurred.

Definite steps have been taken by Lane county Post No. 3, American Legion, Eugene, to place before the voters of Lane county the proposition to build a soldiers' memorial to cost $20,000.

There were three fatalities due to accidents in Oregon during the week ending February 12, according to a report prepared by the industrial accident commission. The victims were: John O. Foster, logger, Coquille; Henry Sylvia, logger, Sequim, Wash.; and Fred Withrow, sawyer, Llantana.

The secretary of the interior has rejected the appeal of Dr. J. F. Reddy of Medford, which was taken from a decision of the war mineral relief commission awarding Dr. Reddy approximately $22,000 for his efforts to supply the government with chrome from a Siskiyou county, California, prospect, during the war.

END OF KOLCHAK RULE IS ORDERLY

Vladivostok.—Parades, street meetings and speech-making marked the city's complete liberation from Kolchak authority. The demonstration was orderly, the allied police force having little duty except to keep the crowds moving.

There is pronounced pro-American feeling evident. In front of the American headquarters the revolutionary leaders mounted steps of buildings across the street, making speeches, calling the Americans real friends, who at a critical time saved this present movement.

The general staff of the new government at Nizhinsk has telegraphed the American commander, Major-General Graves, expressing its appreciation for efforts toward guaranteeing an allied policy of non-interference during occupation of the city, also in adding in a peaceful settlement of the local situation.

General Graves replied: "It always has been and always will be the policy of America to help the Russian people, regardless of party or creed."

MAY AVERT BIG RAIL STRIKE

Walkout of Railway Shop Laborers is Called Off.

Detroit, Mich.—The strike of 300,000 members of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and railway shop laborers, set for Tuesday, was indefinitely postponed by Allen E. Barker, international president of the union, in accordance with the request of President Wilson that action be delayed until after the general conference of railway union committees on February 23.

Mr. Barker's decision to delay the strike, he announced, was taken on recommendation of the executive committee now in Washington.

He maintained, however, that immediate relief must be had and that a strike as planned would have been fully justified.

Root Named to Plan World Court.

London.—The council of the league of nations transacted its first international business in St. James palace with the naming of Elihu Root as one of the 12 international jurists to be invited to form a committee for planning the organization of a world's court of justice. The United States was not represented. Arthur J. Balfour, who presided, said he anticipated the league's future "with the utmost confidence if the experiences of the last few days are any indication of what it will do."
