At the foot of a steep hill stood a signboard on which the following notice was painted:

"Danger—Bicyclists and autoists are hereby notified that this hill is dangerous and they are cautioned to come down slowly."

Appended to this were the equally funny lines.

"Any person not able to read the above will have it read for them if they call on the blacksmith who lives around the corner."

A Scotsman saw this notice and explained to his friends that the point of the joke was that the blacksmith might not be at home.—Boys' Life.

Rash Statement.

At the workmen's institute there rose a fierce discussion as to whether women should be given a chance of filling the high appointments.

"I wouldn't do it," said a youthful and newly married firebrand. "Just think of a woman as a secretary of the treasury. What do they know about finance, anyway?"

His effective pause was spoiled by an older man, who said, solemnly:

FARM STOCK

BASIS FOR PORK PRODUCTION

One Source of Failure Is That Many Follow It as Speculation Rather Than Business.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Recent heavy slumps in the hog market, as well as the high prices of corn, have caused hog raisers in various parts of the country to reduce the number of sows in their herds, according to reports received. But hog raising on the farm should be made a stable, regular business, department specialists believe. The man beginning to raise hogs should resolve to follow it year in and year out, regardless of the price he may obtain for his hogs or the cost of the feed which he converts into pork. Like every other farming activity, pork production has its ups and downs, but, according to long-time averages, the farmer who sticks realizes a fair and dependable profit, the specialists declare.

One source of failure is that too many follow it as a speculation rather than as a business. They plunge on hogs just as they would gamble on grain futures or on the stock market. Operations of this character are never beneficial for any business. Because of the recent decline in the hog market it does not necessarily follow that the selling price of the pigs that will be raised from the sows bred this fall will not be satisfactory. The pigs of this fall will not be ready for a year and untold changes may come about.

Every farmer who is conservative, careful, and painstaking in his hog-raising operations is able after a few years of experimentation to determine approximately the maximum and minimum number of sows that he can maintain on his farm at the greatest net profit. When he has accurately ascertained this number he should breed that many sows every year, other conditions being equal. In adhering to this plan the farmer is, in no sense, a speculator, but is in reality a business man practicing common-sense business management. Hog raising throughout the localities where pork is made as a regular and dependable cash crop has proved one of the most reliable farm activities in which the farmer engages, and despite market fluctuations and the spasmodic irregularities in prices the prospects are that pork production will be as profitable in the future as it has been in the past.

PREVENT CROWDING OF PIGS

Properly Constructed Feed Trough Assures Each Individual Porker of His Share.

Young pigs should be given their feed in such a manner that each individual pig gets its share. The simplest way to accomplish this is to allow the pigs to eat from a properly constructed feed trough, one that will keep the pigs out of the feed and will lessen the possibilities of crowding.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

Every colt raised will be one more work animal to help till farms.

Better a nose ring for the young bull than an accident after it is too late.

Pasture is by no means a luxury for live stock. It is now recognized as a necessity.

Silage is a good feed for most all classes of stock, but is more popular as a feed for cattle and sheep.

No other farm animals put on flesh as economically as pigs with a given amount of feed. Every farmer should have a few pigs.

Teach the calf to eat grain early. Calves are imitators. If an older calf, knowing how to eat grain, is in the pen with the smaller ones these will soon learn to eat grain.

IF PACK HURTS USE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if Kidneys feel like lead or Bladder bothers.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulates them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

"Oh, they had a little spat and Mrs. Twobble insinuated that Mr. Glipping was squirrel food—you know that slang word, 'nut.'"

"Well! Well! She surely didn't come right out and say that?"

"No, but she advised Mrs. Glipping to keep a close watch on Mr. Glipping when she took him for a stroll through the park."—Virmingham Age-Herald.
