STATE NEWS

The recently organized Southwestern Oregon Livestock association is planning to hold an annual exposition at Marshfield.

Members of the Oregon State Dental association opened the first session of their 27th annual convention Monday morning in Portland.

Lightning struck and seriously damaged the steeple of the First Presbyterian church in Portland during a heavy electric storm.

Approximately 125,000 applications for motor vehicle drivers' licenses have been received at the offices of the secretary of state.

At the present rate of growth of bank clearings in Portland it is estimated that this year's total will reach the $2,000,000,000 mark.

Three hundred dollars was appropriated by the city council of Albany to assist in the establishment of a municipal swimming pool.

Harry Shown of Twickenham in Wheeler county was seriously burned while trying to start a crude oil burning engine used in irrigation.

Reverend W. M. Case of Eugene has been elected moderator of the Oregon synod of the Presbyterian church to succeed L. M. Booser of Medford.

One hundred aliens were deported from Oregon in the fiscal year ending June 30, according to the annual report of the bureau of immigration.

Hereafter marriage will not be a bar to election to position as teacher in the Portland public schools, according to policy established by the school board.

The state board of control now has in transit to the Robert Andrews company of New York a carload of flax fiber and tow for which the state receives $11,621.50.

The boys' and girls' industrial clubs of Shedd, among which is included the largest boys' Jersey calf club in the world, will hold their annual industrial fair on September 10.

On the ground that the city of Woodburn has exceeded its limit of indebtedness, A. C. Simmons has brought suit to restrain the city from undertaking certain improvements.

The city of Roseburg has received legal advice that bonds recently authorized by a special election for the sum of $7000 for an aviation field outside the city limits are invalid.

THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

is maintained by the state in order that the young people of Oregon may receive, without cost, the benefits of a liberal education.

The University includes the College of Literature, Science and the Arts, the Graduate School, the School of Physical Education, and the professional Schools of Law, Medicine, Pharmacy, Architecture, Commerce, Journalism, Education and Music.

High standards of scholarship are made possible by an endowment, well equipped laboratories and a library of nearly 100,000 volumes.

With a heightened confidence attained by the recent expression of public support, the University is now entering upon an era of large development and extended usefulness.

K. S. & D. T. BE WATE AND

The 3000-acre farm known as K. S. & D. ranch, and some of the choicest land in tario and Nyssa, will be placed on the market in future, according to Fred T. one of the owners. A contract to Clyde Bingham of the Concrete Pipe Company, for manufacture and laying of pipe to cover the entire acreage, quite water. A contract to the same concern for the installation of pumps on Snake River a portion of the land. It will 000 to place the land in the sold as irrigable, and the call for completion of the November 15. Since the Fred J. Keisel, the owner property, two years ago, pl been made to dispose of the Fred W. Keisel, the present lives in Sacramento. The been newly surveyed and all ments made to have it platted to sell in tracts of acres each. At present a acres of the place are ur tivation, water being from the Owyhee ditch, the new plan the Owyhee will cover some 2200 a the farm, while the balance served by a pumping system lo the Snake River. The land tween the river and the sch at Arcadia, about three miles Nyssa. The larger portion of lies east of the railway. The l in cultivation lies along the oo and has been known as the K. ranch ever since the Owyhee d constructed. The block of ditch stock belonging to the f caused considerable trouble in holders' meetings, since it was that the voting power was off to control the meetings. The s to be irrigated will afford to some 50 more families in the tributary to Nyssa, and togeth the present irrigated portion ranch will add greatly in inc the wealth of the county.
