FARMERS BRANDED PROFITTEERS

The last member of the Harding ad- ministration to get into hot water by making speeches as Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger, the personal ap- pointee of President Harding whose recent speech is arousing the ire of the farmers. The speech made on June 24 at the convention of the New York State Bankers' Association at Atlantic City, has not been widely reported. The following extracts will be of pec- uniar interest in agricultural commu- nities.

"American farmers are caught in the wreck of their own super-prosper- ity which is the direct result of their profiteering during the war. Cuba is in great distress because its good fortune tempted it to extravagance, speculation, inflation of money, credit and prices during the war.

"Yet, if you smile the smile of su- perior sophistication at little Cuba, caught in the wreck of its super-pros- perity, I will retort that Cuba and our own mid-western farming country are in precisely the same pickle. The farmers made money so fast on the high prices that everybody did exact- ly what everybody did in Cuba; went to speculating in farms, forcing the prices higher and higher, selling and reselling on small payments, and dis- counting the notes which represent deferred payments. Then the price of cotton and wheat and corn and hogs started downward on the same path that Cuba's sugar was flowing, and our farmers and agricultural speculators found themselves in full fellowship with Cuba's planters.

"So you see that the profits of the profiteer, whether in Cuba or here, have disappeared. He cannot meet his notes, the banks cannot afford to carry him, and both he and the banks are being squeezed."

"As in the case of Ambassador Har- vey, who has not been recalled and so far as anyone knows, has not been rebuked for his Pilgrim's Society speech, Comptroller Crissinger has neither been recalled nor dismissed. It is pointed out, however, that Com- ptroller Crissinger had as good grounds as Ambassador Harvey could have had for believing his utterances in harmony with the views of President Harding, for on Feb. 26, 1917, discuss- ing the Revenue Bill and arguing against further corporation taxes, Mr. Harding, then a Senator, said:

"I venture to say that if the cor- porations of this country were holding back food products for advanced prices, as does the American farmer, there would be an outcry from one end of this country to the other."

He may have found justification in a speech by Senator Harding in the Congressional Record of Aug. 31, 1917, containing this statement:

"I said that raising one dollar wheat was a profitable occupation in times of peace; and I say to the Sen- ator from North Dakota that the know- ing farmers of the country are buy- ing land in Ohio at $150 an acre for the very purpose of going into a com- mercial proposition of raising wheat profitably at one dollar per bushel."

uses to plaintiff; and for costs and disbursements of this suit and such other relief as may be equitable.

Service of this summons is made upon you by publication thereof in the Gate City Journal, a weekly newspaper published at Nyssa in Malheur County, Oregon, for six suc- cessive weeks commencing with the 24th day of June, 1921, by order of the Honorable Dalton Biggs, Judge of said Court, made and entered herein on the 16th day of June, 1921.
