Free Building Plans

The service of our Architectural Department is absolutely free for you to use. Ask any B. P. Yard Manager.

The building of a new home, whether it is the first or not, presents a problem that requires much careful planning. A lot of money and years of comfort and happiness rest upon your decision as to matters of size and arrangement. A home cannot be discarded like an old piece of furniture. Once the last nail is driven the die is cast.

Build With Assurance and Satisfaction

Men who have had years of experience in building problems are employed in the B. P. Service Department. They will prepare plans and specifications for your new home according to your own individual desires and requirements. You will know just what your home will look like before any of the material is purchased, and with such plans before you to carefully study, you can BUILD WITH ASSURANCE.

GET-TO-GETHER MEETING HELD WEDNESDAY E

Citizens Confer on Plans for Moral Betterment of the Community.

The get-together meeting and quiet was held at the high school building Wednesday evening and was attended by nearly all the business men in Nyssa, as well as a number of others. The meeting "passed off quiet and the utmost harmony and good prevailed. This lack of friction believe was due largely to the spirit of "good" which Miss Covell and Domestic Science class served to assemble through. This of itself sufficient to put every body in a humor and the violin solo by Mayo M. Warren removed the last vestige of the scraping spirit. There is one thing wanting, however, to make the occasion a complete success, that was the presence of ladies. Having a meeting for the moral uplift of a community without including mothers is about like putting on a play of Hamlet and then leaving the role of Hamlet out of it. However their turn will come later.

The meeting was presided over by W. S. Clore, the prime mover in the affair, and after the banquet table were cleared acted as toastmaster. A number of prominent citizens of Nyssa were present as guests of the meeting and gave splendid addresses upon various phases of community activities. N. C. Baldrige was the first called upon and responded in a happy manner, opening his remarks by well deserved tribute to the excellence of the feast of which he had just partaken. Home made flour from the Nyssa Flour Mills, from which the bread served at the feast was made, was also highly complimented by the speaker. Other speakers from Parma were R. H. Young, F. Lee Johnson, Rev. Paul Gaus, Walter Mitchell and Mr. Blackwell, who spoke on the various lines of welfare work with which they were the most familiar. District Supt. Ewing of the Methodist church was also present and gave an interesting talk, interspersed with humorous stories, of which he seems to have an unfailing supply.

At the conclusion of the talkfest chairman was authorized to appoint a committee of seven to consider plans for improving moral conditions in the community and to appoint a time and place for a meeting at which they were to be considered.

A rising vote of thanks was given the visitors from Parma for their presence and helpful talks.

Murder Will Out

The truth of the above statement was strikingly illustrated at the meeting last Wednesday evening when it was proven by unimpeachable authority that W. L. Gibson, whom we have always looked up to as one of the pillars of society, had at one time in his younger days told a most impossible hunting story, one which would make Baron Munchausen's efforts along the line look like the proverbial 30 cents F Lee Johnson of Parma during the course of his talk made the damning exposure. It seems that he and Mr. Gibson were at one time relating their hunting experiences and Mr. Gibson told of meeting a ferocious creature in a narrow path and was wondering what would happen when they came together, when suddenly the animal turned inside out and started running.
