

How Your Bank Account Is an Investment

You have an ambition for a larger success. We are with you in your desire to forge ahead.

While a bank account goes hard in hand with business success, we are interested in you and can assist you in other ways.

We invite the confidence of our patrons, and are ready with honest counsel and financial guidance. Thus your account here places you in line for other services. It is an investment that pays you dividends in the form of helpful service.

The P. T. A. circle gave an entertainment at the school house Friday eve which was quite well attended and netted a nice sum for the piano fund. The entertainment consisted of a short play entitled "How the Story Grew," given by members of the P. T. A. circle, and some special numbers by Helen Garman and Rita Beam; also some musical numbers by Mrs. Joe Stam. The play was certainly an all star cast, each one making a "hit" in her special character. And of course everybody enjoyed the little darkies. Mrs. Stam's piano playing needs no special mention—we are always glad of an opportunity to hear her play. Besides the good time everybody had the door receipts the sum of $31.45 for the piano fund. The circle also received a nice donation from the E. O. L. Co. recently, to go toward paying for our piano. The donation, $36, was given through their local agent, Mr. David Graham.

Quite a number of pupils have been absent from school the last two weeks on account of sickness.

E. M. Dean of Payette spent the night at J. B. Smith's recently.

The Ellis Walters family is moving from the Chas. Marshall place on Lockett gulch to the McConnell ranch on Owyhee. We are very sorry to have them leave our community, but Owyhee gets some mighty good people.

Rev. Fleming was unable to fill his appointment here Sunday afternoon on account of sickness. However, Mr. Davis came out and gave us a very helpful and interesting talk. The next service will be on Sunday afternoon, March 4. Sunday school every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

Our school expects to observe Washington's birthday with a special program.

A number of people from this vicinity attended the funeral services for Mrs. Ward.

Earl Fleck was a caller in this neighborhood one day last week, stopping long enough to take a look at our new school house.

Frank Edwards of the pipe line ranch has been putting up ice the past week.

Phin Warren of Nyssa was visiting at the home of his son, Marvin Warren, Sunday.

Battle of the Giants

What might properly be termed the "Battle of the Giants" took place at the Presbyterian church Sunday eve when the question, "Resolved, that it is easier to become a Christian now than 50 years ago," was debated. The speakers on the affirmative side were E. M. Blodgett, C. C. Hunt and Paul Orok; on the negative side were J. P. Dunaway, Dr. E. A. Nixon and W. W. Foster.

The debate was characterized by the forensic ability and keenness of logic displayed, each side making many telling points. To Mr. Blodgett, who had the rebuttal, belongs the honor of saving his side from defeat. When he arose to make the closing argument things looked pretty blue for the affirmative, but in a brilliant 5 minute talk he completely turned the tide and gained the decision.

The judges were J. H. Wolf, Al Thompson and H. F. Brown.

CARD OF THANKS

It is with grateful hearts that we extend to the many friends and neighbors our thanks for their sympathy and kindness during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother, and for the beautiful floral offerings. Their many loving acts of kindness will never be forgotten.
