Enjoyable Event

An enjoyable lecture and musical program were enjoyed at the M. E. church last Friday evening by a fair sized audience.

The main feature of the evening was the lecture by Rev. C. L. Freeman entitled "In the Service of Uncle Sam." It consisted largely of the speaker's personal experiences during the Spanish-American war, he having run away from home at the age of 14 to join the navy upon the sinking of the Maine. The lecture was interesting throughout, and some of the incidents narrated thrilled the listeners with their exciting character and the realism of the word picture as presented by Mr. Freeman.

The lecture was preceded by a delightful musical program under the direction of Mrs. Stubbs, and was followed by a couple of musical selections by Harry Lauder rendered by Mrs.
McCarty in her inimitable way, with Mrs. Stubbs as accompanist. In the opinion of some the Scriptural method was adopted in arranging the program and the host was left until the last.

New Location

The Nyssa Packing Co. this week moved their shop to the stand on Main street formerly occupied by the Nyssa Meat Market. The growing business of the firm demanded more commodious quarters, and besides they desired to be on Main street. The new location is well equipped with refrigerators, hot and cold water, cement floor in the work shop and various other conveniences pertaining to a first class meat market.

With modern equipment for handling meats of all kinds, fair prices and courteous treatment for all, Burbridge & Ray can confidently look for a continuous growth of business.

Celebrates Birthday

D. MacLafferty celebrated his 75th birthday anniversary Wednesday, the 14th inst., by climbing Mitchell butte.
Upon reaching the peak Mr. Mac Lafferty sat down on the monument to rest and take in the wonderful panorama unfolded from that lofty pinnacle.
Many men of half Mr. MacLafferty's age would find Mitchell butte too tough a proposition, especially on a hot day, yet he performed the feat with ease and could have repeated it immediately after had he wished.

Hats

A large and enthusiastic audience of ladies greeted Miss Corley of the O. A. C. extension service in the Commercial Club rooms last Saturday and again on Tuesday, to get instruction from that interesting and capable woman on the important subject of hats. Miss Corley is an expert milliner, who has the rare faculty of being able quickly to impart her knowledge to others. Her demonstration of how easily a few dollars worth of material can be quickly transmuted into an expensive and fashionable hat was a surprise to all present. As a result of her labors the ladies will in future be able to circumvent the millinery professors to a large extent at least.
In diffusing this kind of practical information, the O. A. C. is performing a real service, yet we perceive a danger in every woman being able to make a new hat at will. We trust the ladies will use their new found abilities with moderation.

Makes High Record

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, May 12.--Geneva Vaughan of Nyssa has made a high record in the archery class at O. A. C. this term.
More than 60 co-eds are registered for the classes. Interest is greater this year than ever before, according to Miss Lois Ranking, instructor in physical education for women.
Each class is divided into two teams which compete throughout the term.
An archery contest was one of the events of the co-ed track meet Saturday. Archery, taken up in the woman's physical education classes for the fourth year, develops keen eyesight, muscle control and poise of the body.

Notice

I have organized a kindergarten class, in music, aside from my regular lessons. This class is for children of the age of six and upwards.

The children will be placed in the class according to their age.

The class meets twice each week.

Children will be given blackboard work and taught to read and write music and count correctly. Also to sing by note and play the piano.

The operetta "The Rainbow's End" by Cynthia Dodge will be studied and given before school commences in the fall, to prove that your child's time and efforts have not been wasted.

Let your child have the privilege of studying music this summer, with the other youngsters. Several little folks have already enrolled and if you are thinking of starting your child, please make arrangements as soon as possible so that I can order material enough for everyone and be ready to start as soon as school is out.

Prices reasonable. Call and see me at the Chas Thompson home on Saturdays, or drop a card.
