Malheur Co. Fair

The Fifteenth annual Malheur County Fair will be held in Ontario three days, September 10, 11 and 12, and promises to be the most successful ever held.

The big Bernardi exposition shows, the biggest carnival company in the west, will be in Ontario during the three-day county fair. This company carries 20 big shows and sides.

The Malheur County Fair will also patron an amusement program each afternoon that will be bigger and better than any held there in years. There will be harness and running events, auto races, wild west events, airplane flights, splendid fireworks displays, etc. John Lakness is the livestock chairman of the amusement committee.

The fair proper will be divided into 12 departments. In view of the excellent crop outlook in Malheur county this year, attractive exhibits in each department are assured.

A. B. Cain of Ontario is the general superintendent of exhibits. The 12 departments and superintendent of each department are:

Dairy, O. E. Carman, superintendent; swine, Ben Rose, superintendent; poultry, D. W. Gibson, superintendent; boys' and girls' club work, I. M. C. Anderson; farm products, E. B. Conklin, superintendent; corn, Garrikt Groot, superintendent; potatoes, Graham Parks, superintendent; grains, Ora Wilkins, superintendent; seed crops, F. O. Fry, superintendent; forage crops, Percy Purvis, superintendent; flowers, Mrs. E. C. Van Petten, superintendent; fancy work, Mrs. Arnold Ackerman, superintendent.

To the winners of premiums in the 12 departments thousands of dollars will be awarded. The premiums this year are more liberal than in former years.

The officers of the Malheur County fair are: V. V. Hickox of Adrian, president; A. B. Cain of Ontario vice president; Ivan E. Oakes of Ontario, secretary.

New Books at Library

The Nyssa Public Library, which in the past has been such a large factor in the educational growth of the community, has had its usefulness further enlarged by the presentation to it of two new and notable works in the realm of literature.

The first, presented by J. F. Reece, is a work in seven volumes with complete index entitled "The Book of Life," and as the name implies, deals with the Bible. It is in fact a Bible educator, written in simple language so that even children can understand it perfectly, and while interest is held by the scriptural stories—entertainingly presented, the fundamental truths of the great Book are impressed upon the reader's mind. We recommend this book to every family.

The second, the gift of J. J. Canino, is a "History of the World War" by the Literary Digest. This comes in three volumes and is the last word in authoritative information concerning the great conflict. The will doubtless prove most interesting reading to many patrons of the library.

Other contributions of single volumes by different citizens have also been received, for which the library officials wish to express their appreciation.

County Library to Hold Second
Annual Favorite Book Character
Contest Children's Day
—County Fair.

The County Library invites all children of Malheur county to take part in this contest by reproducing their favorite book character. While the characterization must necessarily be as accurate as possible, the librarian urges that the costume be as inexpensive as possible. The idea of this contest is to give the child the pleasure of reproducing his favorite book character.

The one who saw the opening of the fair last year or who were at the fair group in Children's Day will remember the scores of youngsters as Red Riding Hood, Jack Horner, Huckleberry Finn, Cave Twins, King Arthur, Covered Wagon, Theodore Roosevelt and others too numerous to mention.

There will be book prizes. This year we hope to see not only these favorites, but many of the other beloved characters made so dear to us thru our stories.

$100,000 PEACE PLAN PRIZE AWARDED

Advocates Entering World Court and Cooperation With League Without Full Membership at Present—Suggests League Membership Be Opened to All Nations and Provides for Development of International Law.

The American Peace Award brought forth 22,165 plans and many thousands of letters. Since many of the plans were the composite work of organizations, universities, etc., a single plan often represented the views of hundreds or thousands of individuals. The content of these plans is therefore an index of the true feeling and judgment of hundreds of thousands of American citizens.

These plans come from every group in American life. Some are obviously from lifelong students of history and international law. Some are from persons who have studied little, but who have themselves seen and felt the horror of war—or who are even now living out its tragedy.

But among them all are these dominant currents: that, if war is honestly to be prevented, there must be a face-about on the part of the nations in their attitude toward it; that by some progressive agreement the manufacture and purchase of the munitions of war must be limited or stopped; that while no political mechanism alone will insure cooperation among the nations, there must be some machinery of cooperation if the will to cooperate is to be made effective; that mutual counsel among the nations is the real hope for bringing about the disavowal of war by the open avowal of its real causes and open discussion of them; and finally that there must be some means of defining, recording, interpreting and developing the law of nations.

Statement of Jury of Award

The Jury of Award realizes that there is no one approach to world peace, and that it is necessary to recognize not merely political but also psychological and economic factors.

I. ENTER THE PERMANENT COURT

That the United States adhere to the Permanent Court of International Justice for the reasons and under the conditions stated by Secretary Hughes and President Harding in February, 1923.

II. COOPERATE WITH THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS, WITHOUT FULL MEMBERSHIP AT PRESENT

That without becoming a member of the League of Nations as at present constituted, the United States Government should extend its present cooperation with the League and propose participation in the work of its Assembly and Council under the following conditions and reservations:

1. The United States accepts the League of Nations as an instrument of mutual counsel, but it will assume no obligation to interfere with political questions of policy or internal administration of any foreign state.
2. That the only kind of compulsion which nations can freely engage to apply to each other in the name of Peace is that which arises from conference, from moral judgment, from full publicity, and from the power of public opinion.

The United States would assume no obligations under Article X in its present form, or under Article XVI in its present form in the Covenant, or in its amended form as now proposed, unless in any particular case Congress has authorized such action.

The United States proposes that Articles X and XVI be either dropped altogether or so amended and changed as to eliminate any suggestion of a general agreement to use coercion for obtaining conformity to the pledges of the Covenant.

3. That the United States will accept no responsibilities under the Treaty of Versailles unless in any particular case Congress has authorized such action.

4. The United States Government proposes that Article I of the Covenant be construed and applied, or, if necessary, redrafted, so that admission to the League shall be assured to any self-governing State that wishes to join and that receives the favorable vote of two-thirds of the Assembly.

5. As a condition of its participation in the work and councils of the League, the United States asks that the Assembly and Council consent—or obtain authority—to begin collaboration for the revision and development of international law, employing for this purpose the aid of a commission of jurists. This Commission would be directed to formulate new existing rules of the law of nations, to reconcile divergent opinions, to consider points hitherto inadequately provided for but vital to the maintenance of international justice, and in general to define the social rights and duties of States. The recommendations of the Commission would be presented from time to time, in proper form for consideration, to the Assembly as to a recommending if not a law-making body.

Author's Name Not to Be Revealed Until After Referendum

In order that the vote may be taken solely upon the merits of the plan, the Policy Committee, with the acquiescence of Mr. Bok, has decided not to disclose the authorship of the plan until after the referendum. The identity is unknown to the members of the Jury of Award and the Policy Committee, except one delegated member.

Remember the Small Things.
It is easy to talk glibly of serving humanity and to forget to pass the salt to the man who sits next us at table, to think of placing our lives at a world's disposal and neglect the small attentions which mean so much to our own home.—Henry Sloane Cook.
