The little, unlooked for services, courtesies and attentions, outside the beaten path of routine, are what have counted most in making loyal friends and customers for this bank.

We Thank You

As this is the end of the ice season, we wish to thank our many patrons for the loyal manner in which they supported the local ice plant, in spite of the fact that we were compelled to charge a little more than imported ice was selling for. Again we thank you.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF

Mrs. C. W. Buckley of Payette and her sister, Mrs. Paul Brainard, were meeting friends in Nyssa Tuesday. Both ladies have many friends here, where they formerly lived. Mrs. Brainard is the wife of Prof. Paul Brainard, former superintendent of schools here, and Mrs. Buckley will be remembered as Miss Bessie Thurston, a former teacher.

Alvis M. Lane and wife of Seattle, Wash., and their daughter and husband visited over Sunday with Dr. W. P. Bradford and family of Caldwell. Mrs. Lane is a cousin of the Bradfords. They are just returning from a three months trip through the eastern states, visiting on the Atlantic coast, Niagara Falls and the middle western states. Mr. Lane is a building contractor in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Sheaffer and two children from Medford, Or., stopped over night with her mother, Mrs. J. A. Schnitzer. They were en route to Hooding, Idaho, to make their home.

Joe Minton moved this week to the Jack McConnell place on the Owyhee, which he will farm next year.

E. M. Benson this week purchased the Wm. Reed 20 acre ranch on the highway a few miles north of town. Mr. Benson will take possession in the near future.

Regis is prepared to supply oil and gas, also air. Golden Rule Garage.

Lettuce packing started at the present time. The first of the week and a large crew is busy preparing the crop for shipment. Mr. Gilchrist has been shipping for a couple of weeks but he did his packing at the ranch. The quality of the lettuce is said to be unusually good this year, with the price around $3 per crate.

Mrs. J. J. Sarasin and Mrs. George Ward are spending today with friends in Boise.

Mrs. Charles McConnell and her mother, Mrs. J. A. Schnitzer, spent Sunday in Payette, guests at the Dave Isgralls home.

The old Eghogd farm is being set with onions and seeds. The farm from now on will be completely turned over to the raising of seeds.

Work of drilling the new city well was completed this week, a splendid flow of water being obtained at 160 feet. Water is already being pumped from it into the tank.

Thursday, October 16, the lady teachers gave a taffy pull at the apartment of Miss Stephens, Miss Dilly and Miss Morris. A very enjoyable time was reported.

A pep rally was given by the high school Monday night to advertise the football game which was played Tuesday afternoon. The crowd assembled at the church and ran through Main street. They gathered at the bank corner, where they gave some rousing yells.

Wm. Reed sold his 20 acre tract on the Boulevard this week to E. M. Benson. Mr. Reed will depart soon for Spokane to make his home, where he has several children living.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is the oldest Life Insurance Company in America. Talk with Hunter.

Miss Adams, the sixth-seventh grade teacher, spent the week end at her home in Middletown.

Miss Bernice Vorhies is taking violin lessons in Ontario every Saturday again this year. Miss Bernice is a young violinist of great promise and has already achieved a most flattering local reputation.

Miss Leona Zittercob returned to Nyssa and spent the week end at home. Monday she returned to Ontario, where she is attending high school.

Peter Mellink was down from Parma Sunday for a visit with "the boys." Peter recently had a narrow escape from being poisoned, an account of which was published in the Journal at the time.

Stanley Fenn was the victim this week of a recalcitrant Ford, which kicked back on him while he was cranking the beast up. He is carrying his arm in a sling in consequence.

While Tom Coward was doing a marathon this week he strained a tendon in one of his lower limbs, and as a consequence his powers of locomotion have been sadly curtailed, but are gradually improving. Tom promises never to do it again.

The Mutual Life has a new policy talk with Hunter.

Mrs. Henry Fields and daughter Myrtle, Mrs. Charles McConnell and Mrs. Frank Miller motored to Ontario Saturday. We are informed the object of the visit was to have a permanent wave put in their hair.

Eastern Star Entertains

Wednesday was a red letter day in local Eastern Star circles, the occasion being a visit by a number of state officers of the order. The festivities started when the visitors were entertained at a five o'clock banquet at the home of Mrs. Frank D. Hall. One of the principal items on the menu was a bounteous supply of China pheasants served in various styles, each style just a little better than the others.

In the evening a 8 o'clock the regular meeting of Golden Rule Chapter No. 131 was held at the lodge room, attended by the visiting officers and a goodly number of members. Degree work was put on by the lodge which received many compliments from the visitors for its excellence. After the lodge was completed a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments completed a perfect day.

The visitors present were: Mrs. Caroline Lewis, worthy grand matron of Oregon, who is on a tour of inspection; Mrs. Minnie Letson, past grand matron; Mrs. Neva Geer of Burns, grand Esther, Mr. and Mrs. Cowan of Vale, and Mrs. R. Naskerkin, an old member, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Baydell, from Estacada, Oreg.

School Notes

The upper classmen entertained the freshmen with a party in the gym Friday, the 16th. The Halloween scheme was used throughout the evening. Lots of laughter and good feeling were characteristic shown in all.

FOOTBALL

The football game turned out very successful, the score being 18 to 0 in Nyssa's favor. Clyde Benton made the first touchdown in the first quarter and Gilbert the second touchdown in the second quarter. Some very fast tackling was done by John Johnson, George Davis, Eugene Pratt and Kenneth Green.

Nyssa's Lineup:
M. Klinsenberg, center.
Elliot and M. Dunaway, right guards.
Irwin and H. Dunaway, left guards.
Thascher, right tackle.
Pratt, left tackle.
Benton, right end.
Servoss, left end.
Davis and Green, right half.
John Johnson, left half.
Rambaud, quarter back.
G. Klinsenberg and K. Green, f. back.

Roswell's Lineup:
Cavanah, center.
Birch, right guard.
Stemper, left guard.
Simmons, right tackle.
French, left tackle.
Dickerson, right end.
Johnston, left end.
Forsing, right half.
Sullivan, left half.
Sarnog, quarter back.
Baldridge, full back.

Do We Want Nyssa to grow?

(Contributed.)
There is a distinct feeling growing in the minds of owners of real estate in Nyssa and the surrounding country that the best interests of all, financially, are being jeopardized by the stand taken by some of the so-called "business interests" in keeping out opposition and discouraging enterprises that may partially conflict with their own lines. This narrow mindedness, if that word is not too weak, is keeping a stagnation in realty investment that deserves attention. Many enterprising homes are compelled to go outside far work to support their families, and at the same time the cost of necessities is increasing through the operation of the "enough stores here now" proponents.
It is time new business enterprises were welcomed, instead of being discouraged, and it is time for realty owners to get together on plans to get real estate values to a par with canned goods and salice.
